U. S. Flies Military Equipment To Nicaragua And Honduras

Airlift To Neighbors Of Leftist Guatemala On Emergency Basis

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The United States is flying guns to Nicaragua and Honduras, neighbors of leftwing Guatemala, which is being armed by the Communists.

Reports of the Central American airlift were confirmed today by a State Department press officer, Lincoln White, who said a special effort is being made to speed up the shipments because of the 70 freight carloads of Red weapons just unloaded in Guatemala.

Airlift Gets Priority

A Defense Department spokesman said C124 Globemaster transports are flying small arms, ammunition, jeeps and three-quarter-ton weapons carriers to Nicaragua and Honduras. He said the equipment is of the type used by light infantry troops.

White explained the airlift is "in implementation" of mutual defense assistance agreements recently signed with the two countries. It is understood the shipments are on a "rapidly as possible" basis, with a priority similar to that given goods destined for Korea and Indochina.

The State Department did not indicate how much U.S. equipment will go to Nicaragua and Honduras. Nor did it give routing details. But it is reported the shipments are being flown out of Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf of Mexico.

Red Weapons Sent Guatemala

Last week the State Department announced that a shipload of military equipment had reached Guatemala from Communist Poland. It was estimated to be worth 10 million dollars.

An unconfirmed report reached Washington today that five fighter planes, either American - made Mustangs or British Spitfires of World War II vintage, were included in the shipment from Poland.

There were also rumors circulating that two more shiploads of arms are en route to Guatemala from behind the Iron Curtain. There was no official confirmation from the State Department, which said Saturday the rumors were current in Guatemala.

One-Stage Rocket Goes Up 158 Miles To Set New Record

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M., May 24 (AP)—A single stage rocket soared today to an altitude of 158 miles above the earth, a new record for rockets of that type.

The Naval Research Laboratories Viking No. 11 rocket went 22 miles higher than the Viking No. 10, tested May 7, which reached 136 miles.

Officials at the base said today's shoot reached a peak velocity of 4,300 miles an hour and returned to earth 20 miles north and four miles west of the launching area. The rocket landed within the test range.

Irate Democrats Quit Foundation Inquiry Session

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio led a Democratic walkout from a public session of a special House inquiry committee today after accusing a witness of linking Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) with a Socialist movement.

Hays contended the witness, Aaron M. Sargeant, a San Francisco lawyer, used a "scattergun technique" in citing the names of Douglas and other persons in a derogatory fashion.

Rep. Gracie Pfost (D-Idaho) joined Hays in the walkout, which came after Hays demanded that further charges be aired behind closed doors. Chairman Reece (R-Tenn) cast two proxy votes to defeat Hays' motion for a closed session.

Force Adjournment

Reece was forced to adjourn the hearing after Hays and Mrs. Pfost walked out because committee rules require hearings to be held only by a quorum and for at least one minority member to be present unless all three Republican members are on hand. However, another session of the committee, probing tax - exempt foundations, is scheduled for tomorrow.

As he stalked from the hearing room, Hays threatened to punch a spectator who was heard to mutter something that sounded like, "Hi, Malenkov." Turning on the heckler, Hays asked him if he had made the remark.

"If you did, be man enough to say so and I'll punch you in the nose," the irate Ohio lawmaker said.

Names Read From Pamphlet

Shortly before the blowup, Sargeant read a series of names from a pamphlet which he said was issued by the League for Industrial Democracy at the organization's 35th anniversary dinner in New York City in 1941.

A list of names, including a "Paul Douglas," followed an introduction which said: "Many present day leaders of thought were among active members of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society college chapters."

Graham Not Afraid

LONDON, May 24 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham said today several letters warning him to stay away from Berlin will be ignored.

Ike Aide Charges Demo Slowdown

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower's special counsel today accused Democrats in Congress of conducting "an overwhelming slowdown" and of throwing out "important roadblocks" against parts of the administration's legislative program.

The counsel, Bernard M. Shanley, also suggested that former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, a Democrat, is trying to ride the coattails of Eisenhower's popularity in a bid for election to the U.S. Senate this fall.

Shanley expressed his views in a speech at a meeting of the Wine and Spirits Wholesalers Assn. So far as newsmen could recall, it was the first public criticism of Democrats in Congress by a top White House official since Eisenhower took office.

Shanley reportedly cleared his remarks at the White House before he made the speech. He ranks third in the chain of command there, so any clearance presumably would have been with either —or both— the President himself or Eisenhower's chief assistant, Sherman Adams.

Benson Discards All Plans For Surplus Butter Disposal

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he has "reluctantly" discarded all proposals for disposal of 375 million pounds of government-owned butter at cut rate prices into the domestic market.

He told a news conference he had come to a conclusion that various plans which had been suggested would be too expensive and would not cure the problem of surplus butter production in the future.

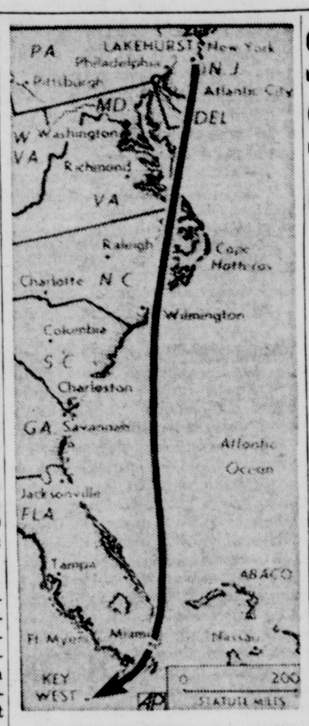
Three months ago, the secretary announced he hoped to set up a domestic disposal program by late spring.

Benson said it had been determined it would cost at least half a billion dollars to move the current surplus stocks onto dinner tables.

Plans considered included offers of the butter at one cent a pound along with one pound of newly produced butter at current retail prices, offer of the surplus along with currently-produced butter at a "blended" or average price which would be considerably lower than present retail prices, and the use of government production payments.

The secretary had indicated in testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently that he believed the one-cent and blended price plans were impractical. This was the first time that he had thrown cold water on the production payment plan.

The latter plan, which Benson outlined before the House committee without a recommendation, would permit butter prices in retail markets to drop to levels determined by supply and demand. The government would make payments to plants to enable them to pay dairymen specified support prices for milk and butterfat. This plan is similar to a payment provision of a controversial farm program advanced in 1949 by former Secretary Brannan, but rejected by Congress.



RECORD ROUTE — Line indicates the approximate route taken by a ZPG-2 airship of the NAN type which yesterday broke the world blimp endurance record by remaining aloft without refueling for 180 hours. Nurse, Heroine Of Dien Bien Phu, Freed By Reds

The cherubic-faced, blue - eyed 29-year-old French air force nurse was finally freed by the Vietminh at the battered fortress where she had toiled among the French Union wounded for 74 days—first under the rising fire of siege guns that led to the rebel victory May 7, then under Red captivity.

Returns In Hospital Plane

The only woman among perhaps 14,000 men of Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries' vanquished command, Genevieve came back in a French hospital transport plane such as has borne more than 400 of her crippled charges.

She came back gaily in the worn, campaign garb of a parachute trooper, with heavily stuffed knee pockets. She was bare-headed. She wore dusty canvas shoes without stockings, this girl who was made a knight of the Legion of Honor and presented the French Military Medal for her heroic job while the battle was still on at Dien Bien Phu. But her lips were rouged.

Met By Generals

She was met at the airport by Gen. Rene Cogny, commander of French Union land forces in North Indochina, and Brig. Gen. Jean Dechaux, air commander in the zone. As an air force nurse, she is under Dechaux's orders.

Under the eyes of Algerian guards, a swarm of friends closed in. They embraced her, shook her hands, cheered and in some cases just reached through the crowd to touch her.

She smiled, waved, and walked from friend to friend, chatting and laughing.

She posed graciously for press and television photographers under a battery of arc lights, but declined to say anything at the moment for publication.

"I have nothing to say," she told reporters, "and I've made up my mind about that."

Nine Men Injured In Gas Well Fire

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., May 24 (AP)—Nine men were admitted to a hospital here today with burns suffered in a gas well fire in the vicinity of Cassity, which is in the western part of neighboring Randolph County.

A spokesman at Leonard Memorial Hospital said none of the burned men was regarded as in critical condition.

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) today proposed a constitutional amendment which would permit racial segregation in any state which wants it.

Molotov's Move For Political Discussion Protested By Bidault

GENEVA, May 24 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov, apparently shifting his ground in the negotiations for a quick ceasefire in Indochina, snarled proceedings today with a demand for political discussions.

A reliable informant said Molotov raised the issue at today's secret session at the Geneva conference went into its fifth week. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, just back after high level talks with Prime Minister Churchill and other Cabinet ministers in London, said what happens here this week may be decisive.

Bidault Protests

Molotov, after presenting the conference Friday with a five-point agenda for getting down to business on a ceasefire, proposed today that the nine-party discussions be devoted to a permanent political settlement. The ceasefire, he said, should be handled directly by the "two sides"—France and the Communist-led Vietminh.

The informant said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault immediately protested, refusing to discuss political aspects of the dispute until a ceasefire agreement had been achieved. As a result, what had started out as a promising discussion on an agenda fixed by Molotov himself ended in confusion.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith was said to have backed up Bidault in his opposition to discussing political questions before military problems are tackled.

Secrecy Lid Tightened

The lid of secrecy on the meetings was clamped down tighter than ever today, but it was plain there was no inclination among the Americans to be optimistic after the four-hour debate.

A communique on the secret session said only:

"The nine delegations discussed against the restoration of peace in Indochina. They will meet again in restricted session tomorrow."

Today's was the fifth secret session, and the delegates still are talking about procedural problems. There has been no substantive discussion yet of the various plans submitted for achieving peace in Indochina.

Symington Like Circus Fat Lady

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) of the Army-McCarthy hearings committee compared himself today with a circus fat lady.

"I feel like the fat lady when the circus tent fell down," he said. "She said she was up to her neck in midgets."

"I am up to my neck in legal questions."

Navy Blimp Sets Endurance Record; Aloft Over 180 Hours

MIAMI, Fla., May 24 (AP)—A U.S. Navy blimp today broke the world endurance record for a crew and aircraft by remaining aloft without refueling for 180 hours.

The Navy said the ZPG2 airship of the NAN type was now cruising toward the Florida Keys and was expected to land at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station, nine miles north of Key West, about 2:30 p.m. (EST) tomorrow.

The lighter-than-air ship left Lakehurst (N.J.) Naval Air Station at 7:32 a.m. (EDT) last Monday to carry out a simulated antisubmarine patrol.

The new record was set over Miami today when the blimp exceeded the old record of 170.3 hours set in 1947 by an M-type airship, also out of Lakehurst.

Cmdr. Marion H. Eppes of Pinson, Ala., is in command of the aircraft which carries a Navy crew of 14 and a civilian observer.

He told newsmen by radio telephone as the blimp cruised over northwest Miami that all aboard had eaten and slept well. "But after a week we need baths," he said.

The 342-foot nonrigid airship will have covered more than 3,000 miles by the time it gets to Boca Chica. It has been on patrol over the Atlantic seaboard, the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Albert Robertson, a Navy public information officer from Key West, said the blimp has been under way at all times and never "just hovered."

"The blimp could wait for a submarine to surface if it took all week," Robertson said, "and there are many other times when continuous flight without refueling could be a great tactical advantage."

Robertson said the blimp did not pick up any fuel or provisions during the trip, but did pick up sea water. He explained that as the gasoline was consumed a huge, weighted canvas bag was let down to the sea by a cable and winch from about 150 feet in the air and water hauled aboard to serve as ballast.

Capt. Eppes said a deep freeze provided everyone with excellent food throughout the trip.

Kohler Pickets Don Gas Masks

Gas masks purchased for 20 cents each from a war surplus store were worn yesterday by striking UAW-CIO members on the picket line at the Kohler company plant in Kohler, Wis. The company president, Herbert V. Kohler, had testified before the State Labor Board last week that he had "a strong suspicion" that tear gas was in the plant. Later, fighting broke out when non-strikers tried to enter the plant and five persons were arrested.

Later Tax-Filing Date Endorsed By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively approved a change in the filing date for individual income tax returns from the traditional March 15 to April 15, it was learned today.

The same change already has been approved by the House.

Also tentatively accepted was a House provision putting into effect a partial pay-as-you-go payment plan for corporations. This section was strongly opposed by representatives of many business groups testifying before the Senate committee.

Effective In 1959

Under the new plan, which would go into full effect in 1959, the corportations would pay 50 per cent of their tax in the year in which they earned it, 25 per cent on Sept. 15 and 25 per cent on Dec. 15. This would be done on the basis of estimates. The other two installments would be due on March 15 and June 15 of the next year.

Exemption Plans Differ

Under the House bill, corporations earning $50,000 or less are exempt from the pay-as-you-go scheme. This exempted 90 per cent of the companies but only 10 per cent of the tax liability.

The Senate committee reportedly increased this exemption to $100,000.

OSLO, Norway, May 24 (AP) — A Scandinavian Air Lines passenger plane on a combined mercy and exploration flight flew over the geographical North Pole today on a top of the world trip to Fairbanks, Alaska, and Tokyo.

Gary Crosby Hurt In Fatal Car Crash

SAN JOSE, Calif., May 24 (AP)—One man was killed in an auto collision on Bayshore Highway today and six were injured, including Gary Evans Crosby, Los Angeles, 20-year-old son of Bing Crosby.

Young Crosby was not seriously hurt. He suffered contusions of the right knee and a cut nose.

Crosby, a junior at Stanford University where he lives at the Zeta Psi house, was taken to O'Connor Hospital.

Crosby was given a series of X-rays and was still under examination by doctors and technicians many hours after the accident.

Freedom For 32 Is Sought By U. S.

GENEVA, May 24 (AP)—The United States, through the British in Geneva, is seeking the release of 32 Americans jailed in Communist China.

Negotiations with Chinese delegation officials at the Geneva conference proceed in informal behind-the-scenes talks.

Western officials involved decline to say what progress, if any, is being made. They fear a premature announcement might upset delicate discussions. One American official said however:

"We are hopeful we will be able to say something" before the end of the Geneva conference.

The U. S. delegation here ruled out any direct approach to the Chinese Communists because the United States does not recognize the Peiping regime. The British have granted Peiping diplomatic recognition.

The 32 Americans are mostly missionaries and businessmen.

Most ROTC Grads Will Get Active Duty

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The Army annoounced today it will commission and call to active duty virtually all the 16,000 reserve officer training corps graduates this year.

A small number of veterans will be commissioned in the reserve corps but not called to duty unless they so request. The vast majority of the 16,000 were permitted to complete their college educations under an agreement which deferred them from the draft.

Jordan Accuses Israel Of Armistice Violation

Red Cross Conference

OSLO, Norway, May 24 (AP)—Delegates from all over the world assembled today for the largest Red Cross conference in history. They will discuss the organization's future role in disaster relief and a common stand on atomic warfare.

Negroes Score More Victories In Higher Court

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Negroes won new victories before the Supreme Court today on appeals involving racial segregation in colleges, public housing, municipal golf courses and a city-owned theater.

In none of the cases did the high court actually rule out segregration, as it did in last week's historic decision which held unconstitutional any system of separate public grade and high schools for whites and Negroes.

School Ruling Mentioned

However, in three of the six cases ruled on today, the tribunal ordered the lower courts to reconsider their decisions "in the light of" last Monday's ruling and "conditions that now prevail."

These three cases involved the admission of Negroes to the University of Florida and Louisiana State University, and to a city-owned Louisville, Ky., amphitheater.

In the other three segregation cases acted on today the court, by denying hearings, in effect let stand lower court decisions which:

1. Banned segregation in low-rent housing projects in San Francisco City and County.

College Segregation Banned

2. Banned segregation at Midwestern University of Wichita Falls, Tex., formerly Hardin Junior College. This decision was based on the "separate but equal" doctrine which last week's decision knocked out. The U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans said six Negroes who sought to enroll in the all-white school should be admitted because it would be more costly and less convenient for them to attend distant Negro schools.

3. Ordered the city of Houston, Tex., to permit Negroes to use municipal golf courses on a segregated basis. This appeal by the city has been before the high court since June, 1952.

M'Carthy Aide Got 16 Passes During 'Basic'

Stevens, Adams Deny White House Dictated Army Actions In Row

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP) — Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan testified today Pvt. G. David Schine was "a man set aside" in the eyes of fellow soldiers at Ft. Dix—a draftee who arrived in a blaze of publicity and got four times as many passes as the usual GI.

The Ft. Dix commander declared, however, that stories of "red carpet" treatment for the millionaire private and former McCarthy subcommittee aide are not true.

Ryan took the stand in the McCarthy - Army televised hearings —back in business after a week's layoff—in the wake of these developments:

1. Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, Army counselor, denied under oath that the Army's actions in its row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) were dictated by the White House or by any other administration higher-ups.

2. McCarthy said Stevens was guilty either of perjury or of a bad memory. Stevens hotly protested he was telling the truth, and rejected the senator's charge he was trying to "cover up" for top administration figures.

Adams Ends Testimony

3. Adams wound up his testimony—indicating the Army is near the end of presenting its case—by saying he followed "suggestions" from White House and Justice Department officials, but insisting the Army's actions were the responsibility of the Army alone.

Until Ryan took the stand, the day was mainly devoted to legalistic verbal wrestling over President Eisenhower's order blacking out testimony on talks between the Pentagon and "higher ups" in connection with the McCarthy - Army row.

McCarthy renewed his attack on the presidential order, calling it "completely improper" and asserting the investigations subcommittee which is holding these hearings is not bound by it.

The Wisconsin lawmaker drew fire from Adams by suggesting the Eisenhower directive conferred a sort of "Fifth Amendment privilege" on Army witnesses.

Ryan To Be Back Today

Adams said he claimed no "Fifth Amendment" shield but was merely carrying out orders from the President of the United States. The Fifth Amendment has been invoked by many alleged Communists under congressional questioning. It is the constitutional privilege to refuse to give testimony which might be self-incriminating.

The McCarthy - Army inquiry shifted to less complicated — but just as controversial—ground when Ryan was called to testify about the Army's treatment of Schine.

Army officials charge McCarthy and aides sought special treatment for the wealthy young New Yorker and did so by improper means. McCarthy in turn contends the Army used Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to block the McCarthy subcommittee from investigating it.

Ryan started telling his story—he'll be back for more tomorrow—in a firm, crisp voice.

He said Schine got 16 passes in his eight weeks of basic training

Guessers Wrong—M'Carthy Makes No Dramatic Move

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP) — There's one thing certain about Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis): It's never safe to guess what move he will make next.

When the Army-McCarthy hearings were recessed for a week last Monday, the speculation immediately began: "What will Joe do next?"

Something pretty dramatic, the guess was. Maybe a denunciation of the Eisenhower administration for refusing to reveal executive secrets. Maybe a flamboyant walkout.

McCarthy, in his seemingly guarded replies to newspaper men, helped to create the impression that this could be explosive.

And yet today, when the hearing commenced again, there wasn't a sign of any such explosion.

The closest he came was when he referred to Eisenhower's order, that no one should testify at what went on at high level executive conferences, as a "new type of Fifth Amendment."

Ray Jenkins, the committee counsel, proved he's still an incurable optimist even though he has been around town for a month. His prediction: the hearings would be finished in 10 days, and Secretary of the Army Stevens would be needed to testify only a few minutes today.

It's too early to say how accurate Jenkins will be on his 10-day estimation, but if it turns out to be as wrong as his guess on Stevens, those 10 days will come closer to 100.

The first question was put to Stevens at 10:36 a.m. There was an hour and a half lunch period. Finally, a 2:44 p.m., he was excused for the time being.

Even then McCarthy apparently regretted he had turned loose the witness, for at 2:52 p.m. he broke in to ask: "Is Mr. Stevens still in the room?"

He was assured that Stevens had made good his escape from the committee's clutches. McCarthy nodded, and the hearing went on.

Irate Democrats Quit Foundation Inquiry Session

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio led a Democratic walkout from a public session of a special House inquiry committee today after accusing a witness of linking Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) with a Socialist movement.

Hays contended the witness, Aaron M. Sargeant, a San Francisco lawyer, used a "scattergun technique" in citing the names of Douglas and other persons in a derogatory fashion.

Rep. Gracie Pfost (D-Idaho) joined Hays in the walkout, which came after Hays demanded that further charges be aired behind closed doors. Chairman Reece (R-Tenn) cast two proxy votes to defeat Hays' motion for a closed session.

Reece was forced to adjourn the hearing after Hays and Mrs. Pfost walked out because committee rules require hearings to be held only by a quorum and for at least one minority member to be present unless all three Republican members are on hand. However, another session of the committee, probing tax - exempt foundations, is scheduled for tomorrow.

As he stalked from the hearing room, Hays threatened to punch a spectator who was heard to mutter something that sounded like, "Hi, Malenkov." Turning on the heckler, Hays asked him if he had made the remark.

"If you did, be man enough to say so and I'll punch you in the nose," the irate Ohio lawmaker said.

Names Read From Pamphlet

Shortly before the blowup, Sargeant read a series of names from a pamphlet which he said was issued by the League for Industrial Democracy at the organization's 35th anniversary dinner in New York City in 1941.

A list of names, including a "Paul Douglas," followed an introduction which said: "Many present day leaders of thought were among active members of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society college chapters."

LONDON, May 24 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham said today several letters warning him to stay away from Berlin will be ignored.

Ike Aide Charges Demo Slowdown

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower's special counsel today accused Democrats in Congress of conducting "an overwhelming slowdown" and of throwing out "important roadblocks" against parts of the administration's legislative program.

The counsel, Bernard M. Shanley, also suggested that former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, a Democrat, is trying to ride the coattails of Eisenhower's popularity in a bid for election to the U.S. Senate this fall.

Shanley expressed his views in a speech at a meeting of the Wine and Spirits Wholesalers Assn. So far as newsmen could recall, it was the first public criticism of Democrats in Congress by a top White House official since Eisenhower took office.

Shanley reportedly cleared his remarks at the White House before he made the speech. He ranks third in the chain of command there, so any clearance presumably would have been with either —or both— the President himself or Eisenhower's chief assistant, Sherman Adams.

Nurse, Heroine Of Dien Bien Phu, Freed By Reds

The cherubic-faced, blue - eyed 29-year-old French air force nurse was finally freed by the Vietminh at the battered fortress where she had toiled among the French Union wounded for 74 days—first under the rising fire of siege guns that led to the rebel victory May 7, then under Red captivity.

Returns In Hospital Plane

The only woman among perhaps 14,000 men of Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries' vanquished command, Genevieve came back in a French hospital transport plane such as has borne more than 400 of her crippled charges.

She came back gaily in the worn, campaign garb of a parachute trooper, with heavily stuffed knee pockets. She was bare-headed. She wore dusty canvas shoes without stockings, this girl who was made a knight of the Legion of Honor and presented the French Military Medal for her heroic job while the battle was still on at Dien Bien Phu. But her lips were rouged.

Met By Generals

She was met at the airport by Gen. Rene Cogny, commander of French Union land forces in North Indochina, and Brig. Gen. Jean Dechaux, air commander in the zone. As an air force nurse, she is under Dechaux's orders.

Under the eyes of Algerian guards, a swarm of friends closed in. They embraced her, shook her hands, cheered and in some cases just reached through the crowd to touch her.

She smiled, waved, and walked from friend to friend, chatting and laughing.

She posed graciously for press and television photographers under a battery of arc lights, but declined to say anything at the moment for publication.

Symington Like Circus Fat Lady

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo) of the Army-McCarthy hearings committee compared himself today with a circus fat lady.

"I feel like the fat lady when the circus tent fell down," he said. "She said she was up to her neck in midgets."

"I am up to my neck in legal questions."

Later Tax-Filing Date Endorsed By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively approved a change in the filing date for individual income tax returns from the traditional March 15 to April 15, it was learned today.

The same change already has been approved by the House.

Also tentatively accepted was a House provision putting into effect a partial pay-as-you-go payment plan for corporations. This section was strongly opposed by representatives of many business groups testifying before the Senate committee.

Effective In 1959

Under the new plan, which would go into full effect in 1959, the corportations would pay 50 per cent of their tax in the year in which they earned it, 25 per cent on Sept. 15 and 25 per cent on Dec. 15. This would be done on the basis of estimates. The other two installments would be due on March 15 and June 15 of the next year.

Exemption Plans Differ

Under the House bill, corporations earning $50,000 or less are exempt from the pay-as-you-go scheme. This exempted 90 per cent of the companies but only 10 per cent of the tax liability.

The Senate committee reportedly increased this exemption to $100,000.

SAN JOSE, Calif., May 24 (AP)—One man was killed in an auto collision on Bayshore Highway today and six were injured, including Gary Evans Crosby, Los Angeles, 20-year-old son of Bing Crosby.

Young Crosby was not seriously hurt. He suffered contusions of the right knee and a cut nose.

Crosby, a junior at Stanford University where he lives at the Zeta Psi house, was taken to O'Connor Hospital.

Crosby was given a series of X-rays and was still under examination by doctors and technicians many hours after the accident.

Freedom For 32 Is Sought By U. S.

GENEVA, May 24 (AP)—The United States, through the British in Geneva, is seeking the release of 32 Americans jailed in Communist China.

Negotiations with Chinese delegation officials at the Geneva conference proceed in informal behind-the-scenes talks.

Western officials involved decline to say what progress, if any, is being made. They fear a premature announcement might upset delicate discussions. One American official said however:

"We are hopeful we will be able to say something" before the end of the Geneva conference.

The U. S. delegation here ruled out any direct approach to the Chinese Communists because the United States does not recognize the Peiping regime. The British have granted Peiping diplomatic recognition.

The 32 Americans are mostly missionaries and businessmen.

Most ROTC Grads Will Get Active Duty

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The Army annoounced today it will commission and call to active duty virtually all the 16,000 reserve officer training corps graduates this year.

A small number of veterans will be commissioned in the reserve corps but not called to duty unless they so request. The vast majority of the 16,000 were permitted to complete their college educations under an agreement which deferred them from the draft.

Negroes Score More Victories In Higher Court

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Negroes won new victories before the Supreme Court today on appeals involving racial segregation in colleges, public housing, municipal golf courses and a city-owned theater.

In none of the cases did the high court actually rule out segregration, as it did in last week's historic decision which held unconstitutional any system of separate public grade and high schools for whites and Negroes.

School Ruling Mentioned

However, in three of the six cases ruled on today, the tribunal ordered the lower courts to reconsider their decisions "in the light of" last Monday's ruling and "conditions that now prevail."

These three cases involved the admission of Negroes to the University of Florida and Louisiana State University, and to a city-owned Louisville, Ky., amphitheater.

In the other three segregation cases acted on today the court, by denying hearings, in effect let stand lower court decisions which:

1. Banned segregation in low-rent housing projects in San Francisco City and County.

College Segregation Banned

2. Banned segregation at Midwestern University of Wichita Falls, Tex., formerly Hardin Junior College. This decision was based on the "separate but equal" doctrine which last week's decision knocked out. The U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans said six Negroes who sought to enroll in the all-white school should be admitted because it would be more costly and less convenient for them to attend distant Negro schools.

3. Ordered the city of Houston, Tex., to permit Negroes to use municipal golf courses on a segregated basis. This appeal by the city has been before the high court since June, 1952.

Navy Blimp Sets Endurance Record; Aloft Over 180 Hours

MIAMI, Fla., May 24 (AP)—A U.S. Navy blimp today broke the world endurance record for a crew and aircraft by remaining aloft without refueling for 180 hours.

The Navy said the ZPG2 airship of the NAN type was now cruising toward the Florida Keys and was expected to land at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station, nine miles north of Key West, about 2:30 p.m. (EST) tomorrow.

The new record was set over Miami today when the blimp exceeded the old record of 170.3 hours set in 1947 by an M-type airship, also out of Lakehurst.

Cmdr. Marion H. Eppes of Pinson, Ala., is in command of the aircraft which carries a Navy crew of 14 and a civilian observer.

He told newsmen by radio telephone as the blimp cruised over northwest Miami that all aboard had eaten and slept well. "But after a week we need baths," he said.

The 342-foot nonrigid airship will have covered more than 3,000 miles by the time it gets to Boca Chica. It has been on patrol over the Atlantic seaboard, the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Albert Robertson, a Navy public information officer from Key West, said the blimp has been under way at all times and never "just hovered."

"The blimp could wait for a submarine to surface if it took all week," Robertson said, "and there are many other times when continuous flight without refueling could be a great tactical advantage."

Robertson said the blimp did not pick up any fuel or provisions during the trip, but did pick up sea water. He explained that as the gasoline was consumed a huge, weighted canvas bag was let down to the sea by a cable and winch from about 150 feet in the air and water hauled aboard to serve as ballast.

Capt. Eppes said a deep freeze provided everyone with excellent food throughout the trip.

Benson Discards All Plans For Surplus Butter Disposal

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he has "reluctantly" discarded all proposals for disposal of 375 million pounds of government-owned butter at cut rate prices into the domestic market.

He told a news conference he had come to a conclusion that various plans which had been suggested would be too expensive and would not cure the problem of surplus butter production in the future.

Three months ago, the secretary announced he hoped to set up a domestic disposal program by late spring.

Benson said it had been determined it would cost at least half a billion dollars to move the current surplus stocks onto dinner tables.

Plans considered included offers of the butter at one cent a pound along with one pound of newly produced butter at current retail prices, offer of the surplus along with currently-produced butter at a "blended" or average price which would be considerably lower than present retail prices, and the use of government production payments.

The secretary had indicated in testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently that he believed the one-cent and blended price plans were impractical. This was the first time that he had thrown cold water on the production payment plan.

The latter plan, which Benson outlined before the House committee without a recommendation, would permit butter prices in retail markets to drop to levels determined by supply and demand. The government would make payments to plants to enable them to pay dairymen specified support prices for milk and butterfat. This plan is similar to a payment provision of a controversial farm program advanced in 1949 by former Secretary Brannan, but rejected by Congress.

Nine Men Injured In Gas Well Fire

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., May 24 (AP)—Nine men were admitted to a hospital here today with burns suffered in a gas well fire in the vicinity of Cassity, which is in the western part of neighboring Randolph County.

A spokesman at Leonard Memorial Hospital said none of the burned men was regarded as in critical condition.

Segregation Compromise

Guessers Wrong—M'Carthy Makes No Dramatic Move

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP) — There's one thing certain about Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis): It's never safe to guess what move he will make next.

When the Army-McCarthy hearings were recessed for a week last Monday, the speculation immediately began: "What will Joe do next?"

Something pretty dramatic, the guess was. Maybe a denunciation of the Eisenhower administration for refusing to reveal executive secrets. Maybe a flamboyant walkout.

McCarthy, in his seemingly guarded replies to newspaper men, helped to create the impression that this could be explosive.

And yet today, when the hearing commenced again, there wasn't a sign of any such explosion.

The closest he came was when he referred to Eisenhower's order, that no one should testify at what went on at high level executive conferences, as a "new type of Fifth Amendment."

Ray Jenkins, the committee counsel, proved he's still an incurable optimist even though he has been around town for a month. His prediction: the hearings would be finished in 10 days, and Secretary of the Army Stevens would be needed to testify only a few minutes today.

It's too early to say how accurate Jenkins will be on his 10-day estimation, but if it turns out to be as wrong as his guess on Stevens, those 10 days will come closer to 100.

The first question was put to Stevens at 10:36 a.m. There was an hour and a half lunch period. Finally, a 2:44 p.m., he was excused for the time being.

Even then McCarthy apparently regretted he had turned loose the witness, for at 2:52 p.m. he broke in to ask: "Is Mr. Stevens still in the room?"

He was assured that Stevens had made good his escape from the committee's clutches. McCarthy nodded, and the hearing went on.

Reds Break Off Siege Of French-Laos Post

Nam Tha Defenders Score Victory

SAIGON, Indochina, May 24 (AP)—French Union forces outnumbered three to two beat off a six-day pocket-size Dien Bien Phu type siege by the Vietminh in northern Laos near Red China's border, the French high command announced today.

The French-Laotian post, Nam Tha, is only 18 miles south of China's Yunnan Province and 100 miles west of Dien Bien Phu. The junction of China, Laos, and Burma.

Nam Tha has strategic significance, guarding a spot near the defenders, who were subjected to continual mortar and machinegun fire beginning May 18, finally forced 400 attacking rebels to lift their siege.

The French and Laotian garrison were able to keep up the fight through parachute drops by French planes. They reported they knocked out 55 Vietminh while suffering "very light" losses themselves.

The Nam Tha victory was announced as heroic Genevieve de Galard Terraube, pretty 29-year-old French nurse who tended Dien Bien Phu's wounded, reached Hanoi smiling and well in her sweat-stained, torn combat uniform. She was flown from the smashed fortress by helicopter and transport in the slowly accelerating airlift that had brought out 422 of the fortress's 1,300 to 2,000 wounded up to last night.

Maj. Marc Charlet, a French mine expert, flew to Dien Bien Phu today to help demine the airstrip there so larger planes can remove the casualties faster. The rebels, who accused the French of "traitorous acts" in bombing roads along which Vietminh has been moving thousands of troops and supply convoys from the fallen fortress toward the Red River Delta, agreed nevertheless to let the French fly out 858 of their wounded instead of the 753 previously set.

The French also announced today five more Thai soldiers from Dien Bien Phu's garrison who fought their way through rebel hordes in the fortress's final hours May 7 had reached a French defense post in northern Laos yesterday. They were exhausted and bedraggled but safe. Three were from the fortress's central redoubt, the other two from Isabelle, its southern outpost. Five other Thais from Isabelle reached Laos last week after eluding the enemy and the perils of the jungle.

Central America War Is Believed To Be Imminent

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said tonight in a dispatch from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that war between Honduras and Guatemala appeared imminent.

Honduran border guards yesterday captured five armed Guatemalan Communists who had crossed over into Honduras, the dispatch by Jules Dubois, Tribune staff writer, said.

President Juan Manuel Galvez of Honduras has asked the United States to invoke the mutual assistance pact signed Friday in a move to forestall the spread of communism in Latin-America, the story said.

Dubois wrote that the control tower at Toncontin Airport at Tegucigalpa reported that it had been notified from Guatemala that a danger zone of 20 miles had been established on each side of the Motagua River near Puerto Barrios and that no planes would be permitted to fly in that vicinity.

Guatemalan troop movements also were reported in the vicinity of Chiquimula near Santa Rose de Copan, Honduras, the Tribune story said. Honduras air force planes reconnoitered the frontier to report on troop movements.

Troop movements, the story said, were reported on the Guatemalan frontier in the vicinity of Puerto Barrios over the weekend. The story said reports had also been received that "Guatemalan army officers and civilian authorities had issued arms to civilians in that area and ordered them to march to Honduras."

NYC President To Go To Scene Of Battle Today

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—William White, president of the New York Central Railroad, will go to Albany, N. Y., tomorrow, a day ahead of the stockholders' meeting at which the bitter fight for control of the railroad is to be settled, it was learned today.

White will preside and make a speech at the meeting — biggest in Central's history — and has much to do to prepare for the gathering, a railroad spokesman explained.

Robert R. Young, opposition leader, plans to join fellow shareholders on the Central's special train for stockholders which leaves New York Wednesday and is due to arrive at Albany an hour and ten minutes before the meeting.

The train will go in two 11-car sections to carry an expected load of more than 1,000 stockholders.

Both sides were in a flurry of last-minute preparations today for the climax battle of the war for control of the 10,700-mile road which began last February when the Central board rejected Young's demand for the board chairmanship and an additional directorship for his associate Allan P. Kirby.

Each side continued to claim victory. Unless a court decision tomorrow postpones the meeting, it is expected that about 2,500 of the road's 50,000-odd stockholders will be on hand at a state armory in Albany to participate in the battle.

White's decision to go to Albany a day in advance, however, seemed to indicate that he was placing little reliance on a postponement of the meeting by court order.

Attorneys for the railroad will argue before the Appellate Division of New York State Supreme Court tomorrow to bar proxies for 800,000 shares to Young's Texas millionaire friends, Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson.

Pass Every Weekend

"He had a pass every weekend that he was at Ft. Dix," the general said, adding that the passes included Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year holidays.

But he said all these passes were granted in response to word from the McCarthy subcommittee that Schine was needed to complete urgent committee business.

And he said that—some newspaper accounts to the contrary—Schine didn't duck dirty jobs such as K.P.

"The story of a red carpet being rolled out, or of preferential treatment, is false," said the general, a stocky man with an eagle-like nose and a self-assured manner.

McCarthy wanted to know at the outset if the Eisenhower directive—which led to last week's suspension of the hearings, though the President said he didn't intend that result—would prevent Ryan from testifying fully.

"I've had no restrictions placed on me whatsoever," the general replied.

He said Secretary Stevens gave him advance word that Schine was coming to Ft. Dix—and told him he had promised the McCarthy office he would cooperate "in every possible way" to arrange time off for the youth when it didn't interfere with his training.

"I accepted the arrangement most enthusiastically," Ryan said. "I had just returned from two years in Korea, seeing the forces of communism in action. If this young man was needed to carry on the fight against communism, I was 100 per cent for him."

So Schine got his passes, the general said, and also was made available for long distance phone calls which came in an average of once a day and sometimes made it necessary for him to be called away from duty.

Vessel Founders

GENOA, Italy, May 24 (AP) — A small Italian coastal vessel foundered in a storm early today in the rough Ligurian Sea, drowning at least three of its 12-member crew. Hope was abandoned for two others still unfound after an extensive search by ships and planes.

GENERAL TESTIFIES—Maj. Gen. Cornelius E. Ryan, Pvt. G. David Schine's Army commander at Ft. Dix, N. J., testifies before the McCarthy-Army investigating subcommittee. Ryan said Schine received 16 passes during his eight weeks of training at Ft. Dix.

Ike Will Request Airport Aid Fund

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower is about to ask Congress for money to finance a renewed federal aid-to-airports program, the Senate Commerce Committee was told today.

Acting Undersecretary of Commerce Charles L. Dearing said he was not authorized to state how much would be requested.

But Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo) said he understood the figure would be 33 million dollars for the year starting July 1.

One administration source, who asked not to be named, said he doubted that this figure was correct.

Some 400 to 500 local communities are interested in getting federal funds for airports.

The administration now wants to change the airport act in certain respects. A bill to effect the changes was taken up by the Senate Commerce Committee today.

Negro Pleads Insanity In Rape-Murder Case

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP)—William C. Thomas, 32-year-old Baltimore Negro described as having "an insatiable desire to steal," went on trial today for the robbery, rape and murder of a 67-year-old storekeeper.

The defense pleaded insanity. The victim, Miss Della Honeyman, was found dead in her little neighborhood store last January.

Thomas was picked up a few days later. He had flashed $100 bills, given away sums of money to persons he scarcely knew and took a party of friends on an expense-paid trip to New York and Philadelphia, it was testified.

West Urges Russia Lift German Barriers

BONN, Germany, May 24 (AP)—The Western Big Three powers today again called on the Russians to lower the barriers between Soviet-occupied East Germany and West Germany.

In identical notes, the United States, Britain and France charged that Soviet rejection of previous Allied requests "serves only to accentuate the present division of Germany." The notes were sent by the three Allied high commissioners to Soviet High Commissioner Vladimir S. Semyenov.

Slate Fall In Mine Kills Two Workers

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., May 24 (AP)—A slate fall in a mine today killed two workmen and injured two others, one of whom had a leg amputated.

A company spokesman for the Puritan Mining Corp. said the accident occurred in a new section of the mine, located near Delbarton.

Ice Cream Maker Guilty Of Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP)—Frank J. Jordan, Washington, D. C., ice cream and candy maker, was found guilty of evading federal income taxes today, fined $15,000 and costs and sentenced to a year in prison.

The government had charged Jordan with evading payment of $23,948.83 in taxes over the years 1946 to 1949 inclusive.

Russian Industrial Experts Sent To China

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 24 (AP)—Russia is moving a large number of her business and industrial experts from Romania to Red China, the semiofficial news agency Yugopress said tonight. Last week the news agency reported that Romanian engineers and technicians also are being sent to China for three - year assignments.

Kidnaper Slated To Die July 30 As Stay Revoked

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., May 24 (AP)—The Los Angeles judge who tried kidnaper-rapist Caryl Chessman today quickly sentenced him to die July 30 after a Superior Court judge here revoked a stay of execution for the convict-author.

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke set the new date on motion of Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll who informed the court of the San Rafael ruling.

In actions here, the stay was revolved and a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, said he would carry an appeal to the California Supreme Court.

Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled today on petitions presented May 17 by Rice, who argued that transcripts of the record of Chessman's trial in Los Angeles were inaccurate.

Chessman, who while on death row in the prison, wrote "Cell 2455, Death Row," was convicted under California's "Little Lindbergh" law of kidnaping and rape.

The state attorney general is expected to move immediately to transfer the case to the Los Angeles Trial Court, which will set another execution date for Chessman—unless the State Supreme Court intervenes.

Judge Keating wrote in today's ruling that on "the basis of minute and painstaking search of all the allegations with respect to fraud" contained in the petition submitted by Atty. Rice, "no new factual or legal ground was raised that was not raised in former petitions."

Chessman, 32, was to have been executed May 14, but late on the 13th Judge Keating issued a stay.

GE Offers Wage Boost Instead Of Guarantee

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Instead of a guaranteed annual wage, General Electric Co. today offered its employes a four to five cents an hour increase.

The offer went to 220,000 employes represented in GE's 132 plants by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, and the rival United Electrical Workers (Ind). The company also extended the offer to other union and non-union employes.

The first reaction came from the IUE and it was cool, However, union leaders did not flatly reject the wage offer. The unions estimated the present average GE wage at $1.88 an hour.

Police Quiz Six More Persons In Hicks Death

LA PLATA, Md., May 24 (AP) — State's Attorney Robert T. Barbour said today six more persons have been questioned in the mystery death of Louis A. Hicks, and investigators plan to requestion a man "regarded as being an important witness in the case."

It was also learned that State Police and Charles County authorities want to borrow a 1950 Lincoln four-door sedan to make acceleration and other tests.

Hicks, 34-year-old paraplegic war veteran, was found dead in his 1950 sedan March 28. His death originally was reported as an auto fatality but is now being investigated on the premise it was murder.

Barbour did not mention the car tests in his one-sentence news release on the case today. But it was understood the probers want to know how fast a car the same make as Hicks' will pick up speed and whether it can be put in motion by someone standing outside and reaching through the driver's window.

The questioning of seven persons since early Sunday indicated investigators are hitting pay dirt. When State Police entered the case they said they would not question anyone unless they were sure they had located persons with definite information about what happened the night Hicks was killed.

Hicks, wounded in France, was paralyzed in both legs. His car had special controls on the steering column so he could operate it entirely with his hands.

Nov. 11 To Be Vets Day

Reds Break Off Siege Of French-Laos Post

Nam Tha Defenders Score Victory

SAIGON, Indochina, May 24 (AP)—French Union forces outnumbered three to two beat off a six-day pocket-size Dien Bien Phu type siege by the Vietminh in northern Laos near Red China's border, the French high command announced today.

The French-Laotian post, Nam Tha, is only 18 miles south of China's Yunnan Province and 100 miles west of Dien Bien Phu. The junction of China, Laos, and Burma.

Nam Tha has strategic significance, guarding a spot near the defenders, who were subjected to continual mortar and machinegun fire beginning May 18, finally forced 400 attacking rebels to lift their siege.

The French and Laotian garrison were able to keep up the fight through parachute drops by French planes. They reported they knocked out 55 Vietminh while suffering "very light" losses themselves.

The Nam Tha victory was announced as heroic Genevieve de Galard Terraube, pretty 29-year-old French nurse who tended Dien Bien Phu's wounded, reached Hanoi smiling and well in her sweat-stained, torn combat uniform. She was flown from the smashed fortress by helicopter and transport in the slowly accelerating airlift that had brought out 422 of the fortress's 1,300 to 2,000 wounded up to last night.

Maj. Marc Charlet, a French mine expert, flew to Dien Bien Phu today to help demine the airstrip there so larger planes can remove the casualties faster. The rebels, who accused the French of "traitorous acts" in bombing roads along which Vietminh has been moving thousands of troops and supply convoys from the fallen fortress toward the Red River Delta, agreed nevertheless to let the French fly out 858 of their wounded instead of the 753 previously set.

The French also announced today five more Thai soldiers from Dien Bien Phu's garrison who fought their way through rebel hordes in the fortress's final hours May 7 had reached a French defense post in northern Laos yesterday. They were exhausted and bedraggled but safe. Three were from the fortress's central redoubt, the other two from Isabelle, its southern outpost. Five other Thais from Isabelle reached Laos last week after eluding the enemy and the perils of the jungle.

Central America War Is Believed To Be Imminent

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said tonight in a dispatch from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that war between Honduras and Guatemala appeared imminent.

Honduran border guards yesterday captured five armed Guatemalan Communists who had crossed over into Honduras, the dispatch by Jules Dubois, Tribune staff writer, said.

President Juan Manuel Galvez of Honduras has asked the United States to invoke the mutual assistance pact signed Friday in a move to forestall the spread of communism in Latin-America, the story said.

Dubois wrote that the control tower at Toncontin Airport at Tegucigalpa reported that it had been notified from Guatemala that a danger zone of 20 miles had been established on each side of the Motagua River near Puerto Barrios and that no planes would be permitted to fly in that vicinity.

Guatemalan troop movements also were reported in the vicinity of Chiquimula near Santa Rose de Copan, Honduras, the Tribune story said. Honduras air force planes reconnoitered the frontier to report on troop movements.

Troop movements, the story said, were reported on the Guatemalan frontier in the vicinity of Puerto Barrios over the weekend. The story said reports had also been received that "Guatemalan army officers and civilian authorities had issued arms to civilians in that area and ordered them to march to Honduras."

NYC President To Go To Scene Of Battle Today

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—William White, president of the New York Central Railroad, will go to Albany, N. Y., tomorrow, a day ahead of the stockholders' meeting at which the bitter fight for control of the railroad is to be settled, it was learned today.

White will preside and make a speech at the meeting — biggest in Central's history — and has much to do to prepare for the gathering, a railroad spokesman explained.

Robert R. Young, opposition leader, plans to join fellow shareholders on the Central's special train for stockholders which leaves New York Wednesday and is due to arrive at Albany an hour and ten minutes before the meeting.

The train will go in two 11-car sections to carry an expected load of more than 1,000 stockholders.

Both sides were in a flurry of last-minute preparations today for the climax battle of the war for control of the 10,700-mile road which began last February when the Central board rejected Young's demand for the board chairmanship and an additional directorship for his associate Allan P. Kirby.

Each side continued to claim victory. Unless a court decision tomorrow postpones the meeting, it is expected that about 2,500 of the road's 50,000-odd stockholders will be on hand at a state armory in Albany to participate in the battle.

White's decision to go to Albany a day in advance, however, seemed to indicate that he was placing little reliance on a postponement of the meeting by court order.

Attorneys for the railroad will argue before the Appellate Division of New York State Supreme Court tomorrow to bar proxies for 800,000 shares to Young's Texas millionaire friends, Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson.

M'Carthy Aide

Pass Every Weekend

"He had a pass every weekend that he was at Ft. Dix," the general said, adding that the passes included Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year holidays.

But he said all these passes were granted in response to word from the McCarthy subcommittee that Schine was needed to complete urgent committee business.

And he said that—some newspaper accounts to the contrary—Schine didn't duck dirty jobs such as K.P.

"The story of a red carpet being rolled out, or of preferential treatment, is false," said the general, a stocky man with an eagle-like nose and a self-assured manner.

McCarthy wanted to know at the outset if the Eisenhower directive—which led to last week's suspension of the hearings, though the President said he didn't intend that result—would prevent Ryan from testifying fully.

"I've had no restrictions placed on me whatsoever," the general replied.

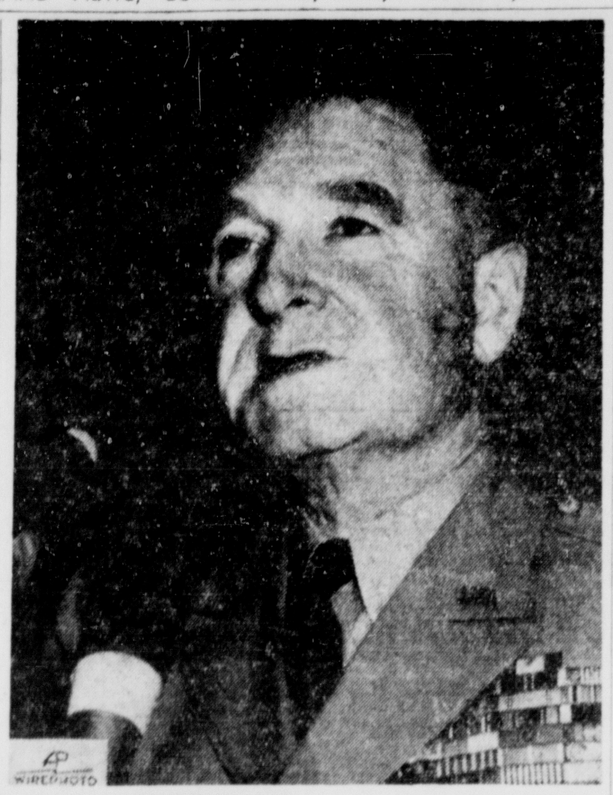
He said Secretary Stevens gave him advance word that Schine was coming to Ft. Dix—and told him he had promised the McCarthy office he would cooperate "in every possible way" to arrange time off for the youth when it didn't interfere with his training.

"I accepted the arrangement most enthusiastically," Ryan said. "I had just returned from two years in Korea, seeing the forces of communism in action. If this young man was needed to carry on the fight against communism, I was 100 per cent for him."

So Schine got his passes, the general said, and also was made available for long distance phone calls which came in an average of once a day and sometimes made it necessary for him to be called away from duty.

Vessel Founders

GENOA, Italy, May 24 (AP) — A small Italian coastal vessel foundered in a storm early today in the rough Ligurian Sea, drowning at least three of its 12-member crew. Hope was abandoned for two others still unfound after an extensive search by ships and planes.



GENERAL TESTIFIES—Maj. Gen. Cornelius E. Ryan, Pvt. G. David Schine's Army commander at Ft. Dix, N. J., testifies before the McCarthy-Army investigating subcommittee. Ryan said Schine received 16 passes during his eight weeks of training at Ft. Dix.

Ike Will Request Airport Aid Fund

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower is about to ask Congress for money to finance a renewed federal aid-to-airports program, the Senate Commerce Committee was told today.

Acting Undersecretary of Commerce Charles L. Dearing said he was not authorized to state how much would be requested.

But Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo) said he understood the figure would be 33 million dollars for the year starting July 1.

One administration source, who asked not to be named, said he doubted that this figure was correct.

Some 400 to 500 local communities are interested in getting federal funds for airports.

The administration now wants to change the airport act in certain respects. A bill to effect the changes was taken up by the Senate Commerce Committee today.

Negro Pleads Insanity In Rape-Murder Case

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP)—William C. Thomas, 32-year-old Baltimore Negro described as having "an insatiable desire to steal," went on trial today for the robbery, rape and murder of a 67-year-old storekeeper.

The defense pleaded insanity. The victim, Miss Della Honeyman, was found dead in her little neighborhood store last January.

Thomas was picked up a few days later. He had flashed $100 bills, given away sums of money to persons he scarcely knew and took a party of friends on an expense-paid trip to New York and Philadelphia, it was testified.

West Urges Russia Lift German Barriers

BONN, Germany, May 24 (AP)—The Western Big Three powers today again called on the Russians to lower the barriers between Soviet-occupied East Germany and West Germany.

In identical notes, the United States, Britain and France charged that Soviet rejection of previous Allied requests "serves only to accentuate the present division of Germany." The notes were sent by the three Allied high commissioners to Soviet High Commissioner Vladimir S. Semyenov.

Woman Found Dead

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP)—Mrs. Florence A. McMinn, 66, was found dead in her kitchen today with most of her clothing burned away, police said.

Police said one of the burners on the range was still lighted but there was no fire damage in her apartment, located on West University Parkway.

Slate Fall In Mine Kills Two Workers

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., May 24 (AP)—A slate fall in a mine today killed two workmen and injured two others, one of whom had a leg amputated.

A company spokesman for the Puritan Mining Corp. said the accident occurred in a new section of the mine, located near Delbarton.

Ice Cream Maker Guilty Of Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP)—Frank J. Jordan, Washington, D. C., ice cream and candy maker, was found guilty of evading federal income taxes today, fined $15,000 and costs and sentenced to a year in prison.

The government had charged Jordan with evading payment of $23,948.83 in taxes over the years 1946 to 1949 inclusive.

Russian Industrial Experts Sent To China

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 24 (AP)—Russia is moving a large number of her business and industrial experts from Romania to Red China, the semiofficial news agency Yugopress said tonight. The men being transferred came originally to Romania to "establish Kremlin domination" over the Romanian economy, Yugopress said.

Last week the news agency reported that Romanian engineers and technicians also are being sent to China for three-year assignments.

Red "Peace" Council

BERLIN, May 24 (AP)—More than 400 delegates met in East Berlin today for a six-day meeting of the Communist-sponsored World Peace Council to discuss international security and the problem of atomic bombs.

Kidnaper Slated To Die July 30 As Stay Revoked

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., May 24 (AP)—The Los Angeles judge who tried kidnaper-rapist Caryl Chessman today quickly sentenced him to die July 30 after a Superior Court judge here revoked a stay of execution for the convict-author.

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke set the new date on motion of Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll who informed the court of the San Rafael ruling.

In actions here, the stay was revolved and a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, said he would carry an appeal to the California Supreme Court.

Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled today on petitions presented May 17 by Rice, who argued that transcripts of the record of Chessman's trial in Los Angeles were inaccurate.

Chessman, who while on death row in the prison, wrote "Cell 2455, Death Row," was convicted under California's "Little Lindbergh" law of kidnaping and rape.

The state attorney general is expected to move immediately to transfer the case to the Los Angeles Trial Court, which will set another execution date for Chessman—unless the State Supreme Court intervenes.

Judge Keating wrote in today's ruling that on "the basis of minute and painstaking search of all the allegations with respect to fraud" contained in the petition submitted by Atty. Rice, "no new factual or legal ground was raised that was not raised in former petitions."

Chessman, 32, was to have been executed May 14, but late on the 13th Judge Keating issued a stay.

GE Offers Wage Boost Instead Of Guarantee

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Instead of a guaranteed annual wage, General Electric Co. today offered its employes a four to five cents an hour increase.

The offer went to 220,000 employes represented in GE's 132 plants by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, and the rival United Electrical Workers (Ind). The company also extended the offer to other union and non-union employes.

The first reaction came from the IUE and it was cool. However, union leaders did not flatly reject the wage offer. The unions estimated the present average GE wage at $1.88 an hour.

Police Quiz Six More Persons In Hicks Death

LA PLATA, Md., May 24 (AP)—State's Attorney Robert T. Barbour said today six more persons have been questioned in the mystery death of Louis A. Hicks, and investigators plan to requestion a man "regarded as being an important witness in the case."

It was also learned that State Police and Charles County authorities want to borrow a 1950 Lincoln four-door sedan to make acceleration and other tests.

Hicks, 34-year-old paraplegic war veteran, was found dead in his 1950 sedan March 28. His death originally was reported as an auto fatality but is now being investigated on the premise it was murder.

Barbour did not mention the car tests in his one-sentence news release on the case today. But it was understood the probers want to know how fast a car the same make as Hicks' will pick up speed and whether it can be put in motion by someone standing outside and reaching through the driver's window.

The questioning of seven persons since early Sunday indicated investigators are hitting pay dirt. When State Police entered the case they said they would not question anyone unless they were sure they had located persons with definite information about what happened the night Hicks was killed.

Hicks, wounded in France, was paralyzed in both legs. His car had special controls on the steering column so he could operate it entirely with his hands.

Nov. 11 To Be Vets Day

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Senate passage today sent to President Eisenhower a bill to change the name of the Nov. 11 legal holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

Youth Is Reported Victim Of Attack

A 19-year-old youth was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Sunday night after he was allegedly attacked by two men.

The victim, James Skelly, Cresaptown, suffered abrasions of the forehead and a badly bruised right cheek. Attendants said he did not identify his assailants.

Joseph Brown, 47, Cresaptown, was taken to the same hospital Sunday with a laceration on the left side of the forehead, abrasions and a possible skull injury.

Brown, according to attaches, said he was "brushed into a ditch by a passing car" near his home.

Forger Is Given Suspended Term

A 41-year-old Lonaconing man charged with forging his father's name to 23 war bonds received a suspended sentence in Circuit Court yesterday when brought before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

He is Charles H. Dohm, who has been unemployed since last fall. Noel Speir Cook, named counsel for Dohm by the court, entered a guilty plea to the charges for his client. Cook said Dohm had no previous criminal record and the problem facing the court was somewhat more of a social one than criminal.

It was brought out that Dohm's father, Jesse Dohm, is a retired employe of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke. During a number of years he purchased the war bonds from payroll deductions. The son was living at home, but did not take his meals there as a result of a family dispute. The war bonds were kept in a "strong box" at the home.

Several months ago the son took one of the bonds and cashed it in at the Liberty Trust Company branch bank in Lonaconing. Later on he cashed a number of others. It was also stated by Cook that about a year ago his client cashed a check of his brother at the same bank.

Judge Harris said that due to Dohm not having been in any previous trouble, and the necessity of seeing that the father and brother of the accused were paid back, he would suspend the sentence for a period of two years on condition that Dohm obtain work and make restitution.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorney James Getty.

Arrested Saturday, Frantz also received a suspended fine of $25 and costs on another motor count.

Police said his car collided with the auto of Paul L. Burley, 1027 Penhurst Street. No one was injured.

Fence Being Built Around Junkyard

Abe Feldstein, operator of a Wineow Street junkyard, is building a corrugated metal fence in front of his property and will conduct his business within the enclosed area, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum told the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Feldstein has been given 30 days to clean up a condition which drew protests from residents.

Nuzum said Feldstein has cleared an area across the street, which had also been in use, and pointed out the original agreement with Feldstein in 1949 called for an eight-foot high fence around his place of business.

City Votes $720 To Finance Municipal Band To July 1

The city agreed yesterday to finance the Cumberland Municipal Band until July 1.

Involved is $720, the figure estimated by officials of the musical organization as necessary to carry them through a schedule based on a concert each Sunday evening to July 1.

The Mayor and Council left open any further commitments since municipal elections are coming up next week. The band, however, wants to present concerts each Sunday through the months of June, July and August.

Public Reception Good

Both city and band officials expressed pleasure with the public reception at the first concert of the band Sunday in Constitution Park. They said the enthusiasm shown reflected sentiment in favor of a band. Park Superintendent Robert R. Golden estimated attendance at 1,500.

In making the $720 sum payable to Arthur E. Shaffer, treasurer, for support and maintenance of the organization, council heard Mayor Roy W. Eves comment on the large audience and say the reception shows the people want a band. He added that an act of the Legislature directs and authorizes the city to maintain such a group.

Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder commented that council should go on record in praise of the quality of music during the first concert.

To Pay Musicians

Joseph Trenton, president of the band; W. Valgene Routch, director, Fred Keyser and James Andrews appeared before council prior to the regular session.

It was pointed out that funds were needed to reimburse the 40 musicians for time and expenses involved in rehearsals (four monthly) and concerts (four monthly).

Keyser said the amount is only a fraction of which Hagerstown pays its band. That city appropriates over $7,000 a year. Eves added later that Washington county also contributes $500 a year to its work.

May Ask County Aid

Since some members of the band here are county residents, it was proposed the county be asked to join in financing efforts and band officials indicated county commissioners will be approached.

Eves said for future reference that $2,000 should finance the band for a year based on current plans, and said it may be possible to get sponsors to offset some of this expense.

Commissioner John J. Long, expressing approval, said he was biased since he had a family and considered the concerts family entertainment.

Youth Is Reported Victim Of Attack

A 19-year-old youth was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital Sunday night after he was allegedly attacked by two men.

The victim, James Skelly, Cresaptown, suffered abrasions of the forehead and a badly bruised right cheek. Attendants said he did not identify his assailants.

Joseph Brown, 47, Cresaptown, was taken to the same hospital Sunday with a laceration on the left side of the forehead, abrasions and a possible skull injury.

Brown, according to attaches, said he was "brushed into a ditch by a passing car" near his home.

Forger Is Given Suspended Term

A 41-year-old Lonaconing man charged with forging his father's name to 23 war bonds received a suspended sentence in Circuit Court yesterday when brought before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

He is Charles H. Dohm, who has been unemployed since last fall. Noel Speir Cook, named counsel for Dohm by the court, entered a guilty plea to the charges for his client. Cook said Dohm had no previous criminal record and the problem facing the court was somewhat more of a social one than criminal.

It was brought out that Dohm's father, Jesse Dohm, is a retired employe of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at Luke. During a number of years he purchased the war bonds from payroll deductions. The son was living at home, but did not take his meals there as a result of a family dispute. The war bonds were kept in a "strong box" at the home.

Several months ago the son took one of the bonds and cashed it in at the Liberty Trust Company branch bank in Lonaconing. Later on he cashed a number of others. It was also stated by Cook that about a year ago his client cashed a check of his brother at the same bank.

Judge Harris said that due to Dohm not having been in any previous trouble, and the necessity of seeing that the father and brother of the accused were paid back, he would suspend the sentence for a period of two years on condition that Dohm obtain work and make restitution.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorney James Getty.

Arrested Saturday, Frantz also received a suspended fine of $25 and costs on another motor count.

Police said his car collided with the auto of Paul L. Burley, 1027 Penhurst Street. No one was injured.

Fence Being Built Around Junkyard

Abe Feldstein, operator of a Wineow Street junkyard, is building a corrugated metal fence in front of his property and will conduct his business within the enclosed area, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum told the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Feldstein has been given 30 days to clean up a condition which drew protests from residents.

City Votes $720 To Finance Municipal Band To July 1

The city agreed yesterday to finance the Cumberland Municipal Band until July 1.

Involved is $720, the figure estimated by officials of the musical organization as necessary to carry them through a schedule based on a concert each Sunday evening to July 1.

The Mayor and Council left open any further commitments since municipal elections are coming up next week. The band, however, wants to present concerts each Sunday through the months of June, July and August.

Public Reception Good

Both city and band officials expressed pleasure with the public reception at the first concert of the band Sunday in Constitution Park. They said the enthusiasm shown reflected sentiment in favor of a band. Park Superintendent Robert R. Golden estimated attendance at 1,500.

In making the $720 sum payable to Arthur E. Shaffer, treasurer, for support and maintenance of the organization, council heard Mayor Roy W. Eves comment on the large audience and say the reception shows the people want a band. He added that an act of the Legislature directs and authorizes the city to maintain such a group.

Commissioner Lucile W. Roeder commented that council should go on record in praise of the quality of music during the first concert.

To Pay Musicians

Joseph Trenton, president of the band; W. Valgene Routch, director, Fred Keyser and James Andrews appeared before council prior to the regular session.

It was pointed out that funds were needed to reimburse the 40 musicians for time and expenses involved in rehearsals (four monthly) and concerts (four monthly).

Keyser said the amount is only a fraction of which Hagerstown pays its band. That city appropriates over $7,000 a year. Eves added later that Washington county also contributes $500 a year to its work.

May Ask County Aid

Since some members of the band here are county residents, it was proposed the county be asked to join in financing efforts and band officials indicated county commissioners will be approached.

Eves said for future reference that $2,000 should finance the band for a year based on current plans, and said it may be possible to get sponsors to offset some of this expense.

Commissioner John J. Long, expressing approval, said he was biased since he had a family and considered the concerts family entertainment.

Plans Nominations

Laborers Local 616 (AFL) will nominate officers at a meeting in Allegany Trades Council Hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Lea Mazdin, special consultant and conciliator for the International Hod Carriers and Common Laborers Union, will preside at the meeting.

New Fire Truck Due Next Month

A new pumper truck for the Fire Department's South End station should be here next month.

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said yesterday that Ahrens-Fox, Inc., manufacturer, in a letter dated May 21, revealed the new truck will be completed in 15 working days. Final assembly is underway.

Long added that the company will be asked to deliver the truck here.

Routine Matters

The session was mostly routine for council. Among matters acted upon were:

Approval of payrolls and vouchers for the last two weeks of the month with checks to be issued employes Friday.

Authorization of the first partial payment of $6,694.70 to J. E Greiner Company, Baltimore, representing engineering fees for the Market Street bridge with the amount being charged to flood control.

Approval of payments of $225 to Virgil A. Ruppenthal for work done in repairing and shoring a floor which had began to cave in as a result of flood control work, providing the city is released from further liability; and $9.17 to Elma M. Wariner, 109 Federal Street, for overpayment of taxes.

Authorize Bids

Authorizing Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder to advertise for bids on: One compressor for the Street and Alley Department; for one three-quarter ton pickup truck for the Street and Alley Department, bid to include trade-in on a 1941 station wagon; and for the grading, paving, curbing, sidewalks and otherwise improving Sunbury Avenue from its intersection with Holland Street to the city line and Roth Avenue from its intersection with Piedmont Avenue to Holland.

Acted favorably on the applications of Cumberland Fair Association for a banner to advertise horse racing at Fairgo June 23 to July 3 at the corner of Baltimore and George Streets for the period May 26-July 6; extension of the Blue White tower parking lot banned on George Street to July 6; and the Texas Company request to install an underground gas storage tank for Walter Blankenship and Son, corner of Ford and River avenues.

'Buddy Poppy' Day

Enacting of a contract-license for operation of Constitution Park casino and concession with Paul W. Holtzman.

Filing a letter of thanks for participation in Armed Forces Day ceremonies from Thomas F. Conlon, civilian chairman.

Writ Is Denied By Judge Harris

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris has denied a motion for a writ of habeas corpus to a Cecil County man now a prisoner in state reformatory for males in an opinion filed in Circuit Court here.

Albert J. Stanley claimed that his sentence of an indeterminate period not to exceed four years, was excessive as the maximum penalty for larceny of less than $25 is 18 months.

Judge Harris cited the docket entries to show that Stanley was tried before the court on his not guilty plea and that an attorney was named to defend him by the court. He was found not guilty on the first count in the indictment but guilty on the second count. The second count was assault with intent to rob and this is a felony and calls for a penalty of not less than two years nor more than 10 years.

County Tax Bills Ready For Mailing

Approximately 21,000 county tax bills for the fiscal year starting July 1 have been prepared by the office of Ernest B. Treat, collector or District 1, for mailing yesterday.

Treat said the total county tax levy is about $2,340,000, of which about 70 per cent is collected by his office at the Court House.

The county tax collectors for District 2 and 3 are also mailing out tax bills, he added.

The state tax on real estate amounts to about $80,000 in the county. The tax rate for the county is $1.80 on each $100 of assessable property. The total assessable basis used by the county commissioners in setting the tax rate is $140,000,000.

Staff Is Named For Ball Fields

Eight seasonal temporary ball field leaders in the recreation program was approved yesterday by the Mayor and Council in accordance with recommendations of the City Recreation Board.

Named to the $80 a month jobs are Robert E. Brant, Joseph R. Gallen, Harry E. Hixenbaugh, Donald L. Pulhalla, Robert E. Reiber William O. Shipley Jr., George H. Wolfe and Marshall A. Yankelevitz.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson was authorized to transfer funds from the following appropriations in accordance with the city code: $8,500 from streets and alleys to sewers: $500 from street cleaning to City Hall.

Meter Inspector Harry Whisner said collections the week of May 9-16 increased $48.84.

Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, gave the invocation.

Council passed a resolution proclaiming May 23-29 as "National Secretaries Week."

Ban On Non-Essential Use Of Water Is Eased By City

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards yesterday clarified the department's ban on non-essential use of water and emphasized the following:

Use of hose for any reason is prohibited.

Permissable are:

(1) Washing of cars from buckets of water or other containers such as sprinkling cans; and

2) Watering of plants, flowers, gardens from buckets or other containers.

These concessions represent, in effect, a slight easing of the bans which had been in effect on all non-essential use of water for a number of weeks.

Lakes Still Below Crest

At the same time, however, it was emphasized that neither of the city's lakes—Koon or Gordon—are at the mark which the department considers the ideal condition, Edwards said, adding that the department would appreciate all individual efforts at conservation.

At present, he added, there is a 249-day supply of water on hand. Lake Gordon was 6 feet, 4 inches below the crest of the Spillway Sunday and at Lake Koon 2 feet, 10 inches below.

Water consumption last week was 85,020,000 gallons compared to 81,790,000 the same period a year ago.

Pools To Be Filled

Commissioner Edwards said the city's swimming pools will be allowed to fill. Two of the four swimming spots—Constitution Park and Celanese—have circulating filter systems which means the same water is used time and again after passing through a purification process. Replacement needs at the two are low, it was pointed out.

Edwards continued that the supply required to fill all the city's pools represent only one-tenth of one day's normal supply of water.

New Fire Truck Due Next Month

A new pumper truck for the Fire Department's South End station should be here next month.

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long said yesterday that Ahrens-Fox, Inc., manufacturer, in a letter dated May 21, revealed the new truck will be completed in 15 working days. Final assembly is underway.

Long added that the company will be asked to deliver the truck here.

Routine Matters

The session was mostly routine for council. Among matters acted upon were:

Approval of payrolls and vouchers for the last two weeks of the month with checks to be issued employes Friday.

Authorization of the first partial payment of $6,694.70 to J. E Greiner Company, Baltimore, representing engineering fees for the Market Street bridge with the amount being charged to flood control.

Approval of payments of $225 to Virgil A. Ruppenthal for work done in repairing and shoring a floor which had began to cave in as a result of flood control work, providing the city is released from further liability; and $9.17 to Elma M. Wariner, 109 Federal Street, for overpayment of taxes.

Authorize Bids

Authorizing Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder to advertise for bids on: One compressor for the Street and Alley Department; for one three-quarter ton pickup truck for the Street and Alley Department, bid to include trade-in on a 1941 station wagon; and for the grading, paving, curbing, sidewalks and otherwise improving Sunbury Avenue from its intersection with Holland Street to the city line and Roth Avenue from its intersection with Piedmont Avenue to Holland.

Acted favorably on the applications of Cumberland Fair Association for a banner to advertise horse racing at Fairgo June 23 to July 3 at the corner of Baltimore and George Streets for the period May 26-July 6; extension of the Blue White tower parking lot banned on George Street to July 6; and the Texas Company request to install an underground gas storage tank for Walter Blankenship and Son, corner of Ford and River avenues.

'Buddy Poppy' Day

Granting of permission to Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW to conduct a "Buddy Poppy" sale Saturday.

Enacting of a contract-license for operation of Constitution Park casino and concession with Paul W. Holtzman.

Filing a letter of thanks for participation in Armed Forces Day ceremonies from Thomas F. Conlon, civilian chairman.

Writ Is Denied By Judge Harris

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris has denied a motion for a writ of habeas corpus to a Cecil County man now a prisoner in state reformatory for males in an opinion filed in Circuit Court here.

Albert J. Stanley claimed that his sentence of an indeterminate period not to exceed four years, was excessive as the maximum penalty for larceny of less than $25 is 18 months.

Judge Harris cited the docket entries to show that Stanley was tried before the court on his not guilty plea and that an attorney was named to defend him by the court. He was found not guilty on the first count in the indictment but guilty on the second count. The second count was assault with intent to rob and this is a felony and calls for a penalty of not less than two years nor more than 10 years.

Mail Carriers Attend State Convention

Five mail carriers from the Cumberland Post Office attended a state convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers over the weekend in Washington.

The business sessions were in the NALC office building, and a dance and dinner were held at the Hamilton Hotel.

Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Gillum, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whitson. Alexander was elected a member of the executive board of the state group. Whitson, the retiring president of the organization, declined to be a candidate to succeed himself.

County Tax Bills Ready For Mailing

Approximately 21,000 county tax bills for the fiscal year starting July 1 have been prepared by the office of Ernest B. Treat, collector or District 1, for mailing yesterday.

Treat said the total county tax levy is about $2,340,000, of which about 70 per cent is collected by his office at the Court House.

The county tax collectors for District 2 and 3 are also mailing out tax bills, he added.

The state tax on real estate amounts to about $80,000 in the county. The tax rate for the county is $1.80 on each $100 of assessable property. The total assessable basis used by the county commissioners in setting the tax rate is $140,000,000.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 24 (INS) — "The Browning Story" is being prepared by Jerry Wald. I was interested to hear that it will take up where "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" left off.

In "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," Elizabeth Barrett eloped with Robert Browning and went to live in Italy. Her irate father never forgave her. Jerry's story takes up the life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning in Italy.

Deborah Kerr has been contacted to play the role of the fragile, ailing poetess, while Tyrone Power is being sought to play Browning.

The picture will not go before the cameras until next year, so any advance assignment either Deborah or Tyrone has would not conflict.

The town can stop guessing about what Kirk Douglas is going to do next. He moves right over to Universal-International to star in a real western, "Man Without a Star."

He was signed by Ed Muhl, with King Vidor, veteran director given a contract to direct the popular Mr. Douglas.

The story is laid in Wyoming and is based on a novel by Dee Linford. It will go before the cameras in mid-June, so boys, stop putting Kirk Douglas in your stories.

At the MGM studio I visited four sets. I saw more stars than I've seen at any studio in over a year. Great activity going on.

I stopped by Van Johnson's dressing room to chat with him, Elizabeth Taylor and Walter Pidgeon. They were reading the script of "The Last Time I Saw Paris," and finally Liz jumped up and said, "I just have to go to my own dressing room and learn my lines!" She had nary a limp, but she did have the sniffles.

Van told me that his six-year-old daughter, Schuyler, was minus all her front teeth now. She was all excited because she was going to spend the weekend with her Aunt Roz (Rosalind Russell). Both Van and Evie think Roz is just great.

Talked with Grace Kelly who was finishing up "Green Fire." She took off for New York en route to Paris for "Catch a Thief."

"I'm going to meet Director Alfred Hitchcock and my co-star, Cary Grant, in Paris," Grace said. "We then go on to Cannes, and I can't tell you how much I'm looking forward to the Riviera in the early summer."

Grace said she is coming back to Hollywood to do interiors on the picture and then she goes on a lazy vacation with her family at their summer home.

"I won't do a thing until November," she said.

"Want to bet?" I asked, and Grace laughed.

Remind Lex Barker to look out for Lana Turner's gags! A few nights ago, she told him to be home early because they were going to a preview and he had to dress. When Lex arrived, he found 12 friends at the house, all dressed to the teeth.

"Where is the preview?" he asked his ever loving wife.

"Why, right here," she said. Then turned on the television set, which announced the showing of "The Battle of Chief Pontiac" — Lex's first western!

Any day, any hour the Peter Ustinovs expect their baby.

Virginia Mayo doesn't know it yet, but she's to be presented with a pink mink cape by Michael O'Shea on their seventh wedding anniversary.

Ethel Merman, who had planned to have her small son and daughter with her in Hollywood for the summer, has agreed to let them go east to be with their father, Bob Levitt, who has rented a house for them at Rye, N. Y. Ethel is my girl — she's certainly an understanding woman.

On Friday, May 28, the Dave Epsteins celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary. Congratulations to both Margaret and Dave.

On the MGM lot testing for Judd in "Oklahoma" was Gene Evans, who starred in "Steel Helmet" a few years ago.

Roland Petit, who is just one of the best dancers, wants to be a dramatic actor. Isn't that always the way. (Remember when Charlie Chaplin wanted to play "Hamlet?")

Roland is begging to be tested for the role of the deaf mute in "The Prodigal," at MGM.

Judy Irwin, 18-year-old daughter of June and Stu Irwin, was offered the daughter role in the Irvin TV show. She said, "No thank you." She'd rather finish school.

Saw Linda Christian and Ty Power on the set of "Athena" at Metro visiting Edmund Purdom. Purdom later changed into his costume from "Student Prince," and Linda Christian wore Ann Blyth's (who is his co-star), to attend the Heidelberg dinner at Rheingold Inn, following the preview of "The Student Prince."

Bill Lasky, son of Jesse Lasky, who so miraculously escaped death in an automobile accident, in which his friend was killed, is now home from the Santa Monica hospital.

While Pedro Armendariz is making "The Conqueror" he'll be John Wayne's house guest. They are very close friends.

Sid Kuller, Donald O'Connor's producer-writer, is recovering from minor surgery.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Of all those who take part in the wedding ceremony, the bride is unquestionably the star. It is her voice that everyone strains to hear, as she repeats her vows.

Before the ceremony, guests listen to the organist's prelude, to the soloist and to the familiar music accompanying the entrance of the wedding party. These are solemn and impressive moments, but even more so is the exchanging of vows.

Naturally you will be excited and a little nervous, as a bride, but these flutterings need not appear in your voice. The happiness in your heart, and the confidence with which you face your future life are the qualities your words should reveal. You can make these feelings known, in calm and sure manner, if you follow the ways of the practiced public speaker. Like so many of the hints for enhancing a woman's charm, these are little things — but so important!

Three Suggestions

1. Clear your mind of the details incidental to preparing for the wedding. You have checked them all off in advance. You know that you will be a beautiful bride, for you have dressed carefully and made a last-minute appraisal of your appearance. Now it is time to relax.

2. Breathe deeply eight or ten times, eyes closed and mind free. This will keep you from tightening up, prevent tension from making your voice seem highpitched or all a-tremble. You want your tones to be as natural on this as on any lesser occasion. (Remember the deep breaths before you greet the first guests in the receiving line, too, for throughout the reception you will wish to appear easy and relaxed).

3. Speak in your normal voice as you say your "I do." The effect of a bold tone is theatrical, and not a proper effect for the bride; a timid voice is disappointing. Let the smile come through! The exchange of vows is a personal exchange between bride and groom, yet everyone thrills to the words when they're as beautiful as the bride herself.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow — Giving and receiving.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 24 (INS) — "The Browning Story" is being prepared by Jerry Wald. I was interested to hear that it will take up where "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" left off.

In "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," Elizabeth Barrett eloped with Robert Browning and went to live in Italy. Her irate father never forgave her. Jerry's story takes up the life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Robert Browning in Italy.

Deborah Kerr has been contacted to play the role of the fragile, ailing poetess, while Tyrone Power is being sought to play Browning.

The picture will not go before the cameras until next year, so any advance assignment either Deborah or Tyrone has would not conflict.

The town can stop guessing about what Kirk Douglas is going to do next. He moves right over to Universal-International to star in a real western, "Man Without a Star."

He was signed by Ed Muhl, with King Vidor, veteran director given a contract to direct the popular Mr. Douglas.

The story is laid in Wyoming and is based on a novel by Dee Linford. It will go before the cameras in mid-June, so boys, stop putting Kirk Douglas in your stories.

At the MGM studio I visited four sets. I saw more stars than I've seen at any studio in over a year. Great activity going on.

I stopped by Van Johnson's dressing room to chat with him, Elizabeth Taylor and Walter Pidgeon. They were reading the script of "The Last Time I Saw Paris," and finally Liz jumped up and said, "I just have to go to my own dressing room and learn my lines!" She had nary a limp, but she did have the sniffles.

Van told me that his six-year-old daughter, Schuyler, was minus all her front teeth now. She was all excited because she was going to spend the weekend with her Aunt Roz (Rosalind Russell). Both Van and Evie think Roz is just great.

Talked with Grace Kelly who was finishing up "Green Fire." She took off for New York en route to Paris for "Catch a Thief."

"I'm going to meet Director Alfred Hitchcock and my co-star, Cary Grant, in Paris," Grace said. "We then go on to Cannes, and I can't tell you how much I'm looking forward to the Riviera in the early summer."

Grace said she is coming back to Hollywood to do interiors on the picture and then she goes on a lazy vacation with her family at their summer home.

"I won't do a thing until November," she said.

"Want to bet?" I asked, and Grace laughed.

Remind Lex Barker to look out for Lana Turner's gags! A few nights ago, she told him to be home early because they were going to a preview and he had to dress. When Lex arrived, he found 12 friends at the house, all dressed to the teeth.

"Where is the preview?" he asked his ever loving wife.

"Why, right here," she said. Then turned on the television set, which announced the showing of "The Battle of Chief Pontiac" — Lex's first western!

Any day, any hour the Peter Ustinovs expect their baby.

Virginia Mayo doesn't know it yet, but she's to be presented with a pink mink cape by Michael O'Shea on their seventh wedding anniversary.

Ethel Merman, who had planned to have her small son and daughter with her in Hollywood for the summer, has agreed to let them go east to be with their father, Bob Levitt, who has rented a house for them at Rye, N. Y. Ethel is my girl — she's certainly an understanding woman.

On Friday, May 28, the Dave Epsteins celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary. Congratulations to both Margaret and Dave.

On the MGM lot testing for Judd in "Oklahoma" was Gene Evans, who starred in "Steel Helmet" a few years ago.

Roland Petit, who is just one of the best dancers, wants to be a dramatic actor. Isn't that always the way. (Remember when Charlie Chaplin wanted to play "Hamlet?")

Roland is begging to be tested for the role of the deaf mute in "The Prodigal," at MGM.

Judy Irwin, 18-year-old daughter of June and Stu Irwin, was offered the daughter role in the Irvin TV show. She said, "No thank you." She'd rather finish school.

Saw Linda Christian and Ty Power on the set of "Athena" at Metro visiting Edmund Purdom. Purdom later changed into his costume from "Student Prince," and Linda Christian wore Ann Blyth's (who is his co-star), to attend the Heidelberg dinner at Rheingold Inn, following the preview of "The Student Prince."

Bill Lasky, son of Jesse Lasky, who so miraculously escaped death in an automobile accident, in which his friend was killed, is now home from the Santa Monica hospital.

While Pedro Armendariz is making "The Conqueror" he'll be John Wayne's house guest. They are very close friends.

Sid Kuller, Donald O'Connor's producer-writer, is recovering from minor surgery.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Of all those who take part in the wedding ceremony, the bride is unquestionably the star. It is her voice that everyone strains to hear, as she repeats her vows.

Before the ceremony, guests listen to the organist's prelude, to the soloist and to the familiar music accompanying the entrance of the wedding party. These are solemn and impressive moments, but even more so is the exchanging of vows.

Naturally you will be excited and a little nervous, as a bride, but these flutterings need not appear in your voice. The happiness in your heart, and the confidence with which you face your future life are the qualities your words should reveal. You can make these feelings known, in calm and sure manner, if you follow the ways of the practiced public speaker. Like so many of the hints for enhancing a woman's charm, these are little things — but so important!

Three Suggestions

1. Clear your mind of the details incidental to preparing for the wedding. You have checked them all off in advance. You know that you will be a beautiful bride, for you have dressed carefully and made a last-minute appraisal of your appearance. Now it is time to relax.

2. Breathe deeply eight or ten times, eyes closed and mind free. This will keep you from tightening up, prevent tension from making your voice seem highpitched or all a-tremble. You want your tones to be as natural on this as on any lesser occasion. (Remember the deep breaths before you greet the first guests in the receiving line, too, for throughout the reception you will wish to appear easy and relaxed).

3. Speak in your normal voice as you say your "I do." The effect of a bold tone is theatrical, and not a proper effect for the bride; a timid voice is disappointing. Let the smile come through! The exchange of vows is a personal exchange between bride and groom, yet everyone thrills to the words when they're as beautiful as the bride herself.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow — Giving and receiving.

Frederick Mayor, Aldermen Answer Pay Scale "Rumors"

FREDERICK, May 24 (AP)—Mayor Donald B. Rice and the board of aldermen today replied to published reports and what were termed "rumors" that Rice and City Register Aubrey A. Nicodemus are being paid salaries larger than those the State Legislature has authorized.

The General Assembly, which has the power to establish such salaries, several years ago set the mayor's pay at $3,000 per year. Mayor Rice has been drawing $5,000 per year since December of 1952.

However, the 1953 Legislature doubled the mayor's salary, effective next July.

Nicodemus is authorized a salary of only $3,600 per year, but has been drawing $1,200 more than that amount since January of 1951.

Rice is a Republican and Nicodemus a Democrat. The board of aldermen is made up of two Republicans and three Democrats.

Both Rice and Nicodemus are candidates to succeed themselves in the city elections Tuesday, June 8.

The matter has been a subject of discussion here, but as yet, the Republican candidate for mayor, John A. Derr, has not publicly taken a position.

The Democrats and Republicans on the board of aldermen, apparently finding themselves in the same boat, agreed to the statement released from the office of the mayor, according to a spokesman for Rice.

The statement said that in both instances "compensatory allowances" had been provided for "additional duties that were not and could not have been anticipated" at the time the salaries were set by the legislature.

The statement cited the "rapidly increasing burden in the city register's office, due to the growth and expansion of the city."

It said the mayor's duties "now require full time attention," and the compensation previously provided would be "grossly inadequate."

The statement pointed out that Rice, since assuming his obligations as mayor, has had to add another full time employe to help operate his filling station.

The statement indicated there was no secrecy around the granting of the additional allowances at the time the steps were taken.

Degrees Awarded To Md. Governor And Mrs. M'Keldin

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., May 24 (AP)—Steed College of Technology was to present an honorary degree to Gov. McKeldin of Maryland tonight and, going its predecessors one better, to Mrs. McKeldin, too.

The Maryland governor was designated for a doctorate in political science. Mrs. McKeldin, for her first honorary degree, was to be made a doctor of humane letters, largely for her work with the Empty Stocking Club of Baltimore and other charities.

It was the 12th such degree for McKeldin. He is to receive his 13th, as doctor of law, from Lincoln (Ill.) College, May 31.

Commentator Wins Civil Liberties Award

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP) — Author and Television commentator Gerald W. Johnson tonight received the Maryland Civil Liberties Award, an honor that has gone previously to Gov. McKeldin and Prof. George Boas of Johns Hopkins.

Johnson was cited for "effectively presenting the facts and steadfastly and courageously defending civil liberties in his distinguished telecasts over WAAM-TV and the ABC television network."

State 4-H Team Will Go To England July 5

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The 4-H dairy cattle judging team of Maryland will leave the week of July 5 for England to represent the United States at the Royal Agricultural Society Show.

The team won the right to represent this country last October by defeating teams from 29 other states at the National Dairy Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa.

Members of the Maryland team are Glen Patterson of McDonogh, John Nicolai Jr. of Ellicott City, Richard Hough, of Mount Airy and Roscoe Harbough, New Midway.

Left to right, the graduates are Mrs. Edna Smith, 37, who will receive a B. S. degree from Oglethorpe University, Atlanta; Betty Herndon, 24, who will receive a B. Trial Of Washington County Sheriff Advanced One Week

HAGERSTOWN, May 24 (AP) — Court attaches said today a change to the week of June 7th has been made in the trial of Sheriff Edward L. Rowland of Washington County, four of his deputies and a Hagerstown meat dealer on charges of irregularities in purchases for the county jail.

The trial had been set for the week of June 15th. But attaches said counsel for Deputy Michael Farrie asked the earlier date because Farrie is a candidate for sheriff in the June 28 elections.

Atty. Francis Urner said delaying the trial until closer to the election might affect the balloting.

Rowland also is running for re-election.

Ten indictments were returned against the sheriff, Farrie and Deputies Mary F. Stahl, Kenneth E. Stangle and Charles F. Crowl, together with Paul E. Lizer, the meat dealer.

Nine counts charged either conspiracy to defraud or false pretense in connection with food purchases for the jail or gasoline for the sheriff's cars. The tenth charged Rowland with misfeasance.

Restaurants in the United States are serving an average of 70 million meals a day.

Deaths Of Man, Woman Held Murder-Suicide

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., May 24 (AP) — Police have described as murder-suicide the deaths Saturday of a man and woman found in a house here.

Police Chief H. S. Bryers identified the two as William Diffenderfer, 47, of Chambersburg, and Mrs. Ilo Ann Scott, 35, of Fayetteville R. D. 2, both Franklin County.

Deputy Coroner C. P. Brink said the two died about 16 hours apart in the bedroom of the man's home.

Brink said Diffenderfer left a note blaming the deaths on Mrs. Scott's "two-timing."

Mrs. Scott's death was attributed to strangulation and bruises of the head and face caused by a severe beating. The man died of a self-inflicted shotgun wound of the face Brink said.

Mason-Dixon Marker Coming Home From 1904 Fair

MARYDEL, Md., May 24 (AP) — The Marydel Crownstone is due back here from the World's Fair tomorrow — the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair.

After side excursions to Annapolis and Baltimore, the old Mason-Dixon line marker is being returned by the Maryland Board of Natural Resources.

Executive Secretary William Bayliff of the resources board said he would be on hand to see that the stone is set on the Maryland-Delaware boundary at the spot it was placed by Mason and Dixon in 1765.

The Crownstone is the 45-mile marker on the north-south border between the two states. It marks a point 45 miles north of the Middle Point, as historians call the southwest corner of Delaware.

Bayliff charts the wanderings of the Crownstone this way:

It was quarried in England, sent to the Eastern Shore and set up in this Caroline County community in 1765.

In 1904, it went to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis as part of Maryland's contribution to the exhibit. Later that year, the stone was returned to Annapolis and installed in the old House of Delegates chamber in the State House.

Fourteen years ago, when the State House exhibit was dismantled, custody of the stone was transferred to the Maryland Academy of Science.

After the academy sold its North Charles Street property in Baltimore, part of the exhibit went to the Enoch Pratt Library. The Marydel Crownstone went into storage.

There it remained until the State early this year asked that the stone be released and reset here.

Trial Of Washington County Sheriff Advanced One Week

HAGERSTOWN, May 24 (AP) — Court attaches said today a change to the week of June 7th has been made in the trial of Sheriff Edward L. Rowland of Washington County, four of his deputies and a Hagerstown meat dealer on charges of irregularities in purchases for the county jail.

The trial had been set for the week of June 15th. But attaches said counsel for Deputy Michael Farrie asked the earlier date because Farrie is a candidate for sheriff in the June 28 elections.

Atty. Francis Urner said delaying the trial until closer to the election might affect the balloting.

Rowland also is running for re-election.

Ten indictments were returned against the sheriff, Farrie and Deputies Mary F. Stahl, Kenneth E. Stangle and Charles F. Crowl, together with Paul E. Lizer, the meat dealer.

Nine counts charged either conspiracy to defraud or false pretense in connection with food purchases for the jail or gasoline for the sheriff's cars. The tenth charged Rowland with misfeasance.

Restaurants in the United States are serving an average of 70 million meals a day.

Deaths Of Man, Woman Held Murder-Suicide

Police Chief H. S. Bryers identified the two as William Diffenderfer, 47, of Chambersburg, and Mrs. Ilo Ann Scott, 35, of Fayetteville R. D. 2, both Franklin County.

Deputy Coroner C. P. Brink said the two died about 16 hours apart in the bedroom of the man's home.

Brink said Diffenderfer left a note blaming the deaths on Mrs. Scott's "two-timing."

Mrs. Scott's death was attributed to strangulation and bruises of the head and face caused by a severe beating. The man died of a self-inflicted shotgun wound of the face Brink said.

Mason-Dixon Marker Coming Home From 1904 Fair

MARYDEL, Md., May 24 (AP) — The Marydel Crownstone is due back here from the World's Fair tomorrow — the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair.

After side excursions to Annapolis and Baltimore, the old Mason-Dixon line marker is being returned by the Maryland Board of Natural Resources.

Executive Secretary William Bayliff of the resources board said he would be on hand to see that the stone is set on the Maryland-Delaware boundary at the spot it was placed by Mason and Dixon in 1765.

The Crownstone is the 45-mile marker on the north-south border between the two states. It marks a point 45 miles north of the Middle Point, as historians call the southwest corner of Delaware.

Bayliff charts the wanderings of the Crownstone this way:

It was quarried in England, sent to the Eastern Shore and set up in this Caroline County community in 1765.

In 1904, it went to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis as part of Maryland's contribution to the exhibit. Later that year, the stone was returned to Annapolis and installed in the old House of Delegates chamber in the State House.

Fourteen years ago, when the State House exhibit was dismantled, custody of the stone was transferred to the Maryland Academy of Science.

After the academy sold its North Charles Street property in Baltimore, part of the exhibit went to the Enoch Pratt Library. The Marydel Crownstone went into storage.

There it remained until the State early this year asked that the stone be released and reset here.

Sports Car Races Official Calls Cumberland 'Friendly'

Cumberland is one of the "friendliest cities" he has ever visited and the people can "be proud of your city because in my humble opinion you certainly have something to be proud of."

This opinion is expressed in a letter addressed to "Citizens of Cumberland, Maryland" from Fred A. German, director, communications and safety for the recent Cumberland Sports Car Races. German resides in Rochester, N. Y.

German said when he was invited by Edgar Vandegrift of the race-sponsoring Lions Club to officiate here, he accepted with reluctance. He said he had never been here, had no particular desire to visit Cumberland and the prospect of traveling more than 400 miles to a strange city "left me cold." However, he added, his interest in amateur racing got the better of him.

"I wasn't in Cumberland very long before I had the pleasure of meeting Al (A. E.) Windish, Dr. and Mrs. Ben (Benedict) Skitarelic, Dr. A. J. Mirkin, William Carscaden, Col. Robert Matlick, Fire Chief (Virgil A.) Parker and many others who were working on the race arrangements. These people made me feel right at home immediately. And it didn't take long to find that this friendly attitude radiated throughout the whole city.

"Being a stranger I had to rely on the Cumberland policemen to find my way around. Not only were they more than willing to supply information (everything from a good place to eat to where to find a straw hat), but without exception their courtesy was outstanding. As a rule, policemen appear to be a bit annoyed when they are asked simple questions but not in Cumberland. Each time I asked a question the answer was accompanied by a smile and I had the feeling they enjoyed performing these little tasks.

"Everywhere I went people were friendly and usually wore a smile on their faces. This attitude makes a person feel good in a strange town. Dr. Skitarelic and his wife made me feel that their home was my home and that I was welcome at any time, day or night. Ed Vandegrift and Bill Carscaden and their committees made my job at the races, which is usually a tough one, as easy as it could possibly be through their excellent planning. Spectator control was the finest I have ever seen due to Col. Matlick and his men and the respect the spectators showed them. Spectator control is always a big headache and the one phase of any sporting event that officials dread. At Cumberland, spectators seemed to know what was expected of them and presented no problem at all. This is certainly a creditable attitude for any community to have.

"The splendid cooperation I received from every one concerned with the race is worthy of mention. In any sporting event of this magnitude, there is a tremendous amount of work involved. This work can be made more pleasant by intelligent planning and organization. The entire race committee at Cumberland worked like a well-oiled machine. It was a sincere pleasure working with these men."

Is there such a thing as a
when it comes to buying beer?

Some breweries must think so . . . when you add up all the wild claims which they make for their beers. We've found that sensible people respect quality and recognize good taste in the beer they enjoy.

A wise customer appreciates a product which is brewed up to a standard . . . not down to a slogan.

LESS FILLING
FEWER CALORIES
BELT-LINE GUARD

PALE DRY
NON-FATTENING
AGED LONGER THAN...
THE THIN BEER

You still can't beat good taste!
For some 64 years our family-owned brewery has believed that "Good Taste" and good taste alone . . . sells beer.
We've seen all the circus stunts come and go. But good taste never goes out of fashion.

Brewed in small quantities
Each beer has its own characteristics . . . that's why we brew Old Export in small quantities. These small quantities give us better . . . much better . . . flavor control. They account for Old Export's unchanging good taste.

Old Export 5-times greater today
Today Old Export has increased its business 5-times over since Repeal began in 1933. No other beer around here can even get close to that continuous brewing achievement.
The best way to check the truth of what we've been saying about our beer for 64 years . . . is to ask for Old Export.
Try it.

Official U. S. Government findings

"Analyses of beer samples have shown that the sugar content varied so little, amounting in no instance to more than negligible trace, as to have no appreciable effect on the caloric content."

Independent research proves that no leading beer has less calories than Old Export.

Is there such a thing as a
GRASSHOPPER MIND
when it comes to buying beer?

Some breweries must think so . . . when you add up all the wild claims which they make for their beers. We've found that sensible people respect quality and recognize good taste in the beer they enjoy.

A wise customer appreciates a product which is brewed up to a standard . . . not down to a slogan.

LESS FILLING
FEWER CALORIES
BELT-LINE GUARD

PALE DRY
NON-FATTENING
AGED LONGER THAN...
THE THIN BEER

You still can't beat good taste!
For some 64 years our family-owned brewery has believed that "Good Taste" and good taste alone . . . sells beer.
We've seen all the circus stunts come and go. But good taste never goes out of fashion.

Brewed in small quantities
Each beer has its own characteristics . . . that's why we brew Old Export in small quantities. These small quantities give us better . . . much better . . . flavor control. They account for Old Export's unchanging good taste.

Old Export 5-times greater today
Today Old Export has increased its business 5-times over since Repeal began in 1933. No other beer around here can even get close to that continuous brewing achievement.
The best way to check the truth of what we've been saying about our beer for 64 years . . . is to ask for Old Export.
Try it.

Official U. S. Government findings

"Analyses of beer samples have shown that the sugar content varied so little, amounting in no instance to more than negligible trace, as to have no appreciable effect on the caloric content."

Independent research proves that no leading beer has less calories than Old Export.

• They've Been Working On The Railroad

Still another legal test in the battle for control of the New York Central Railroad Company by voting proxies is set for today, when the Appellate Division of the New York state courts is to decide whether to enjoin the proxy voting of 800,000 shares (12½ per cent) of the railroad's common stock outstanding.

The shares were purchased last February by two Texas friends of Robert R. Young, chairman of the Alleghany Corporation and former chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, who is trying to displace the present Central management. (The two Texans received large loans from Alleghany without collateral.) Lower courts have refused to issue an injunction against voting the 800,000 shares by proxy or to order postponement of the annual stockholders' meeting set for Wednesday.

Young is reviving a long-standing complaint against the New York Central management: banker control of the road "under the financial management of the Vanderbilt family, First National Bank, J. P. Morgan & Company, and allied banking interests represented on the board . . . during the last 25 years." Criticism of banker management some 40 years ago led to a change in management at that time.

President William White of the New York Central bases his defense against Young on the need for experience in railroading. Himself a life-long railroader, White declares: "The small stockholders who own the bulk of Central understand that railroads are best run by experienced railroad men rather than absentee owners from Palm Beach and Newport."

Both sides have predicted victory in the proxy battle. Both have bombarded stockholders by mail, and have engaged in widespread advertising campaigns. We may have the answer soon.

These Days

Committee Procedures

The other night, I heard three law school professors debate on how to run congressional committees. The three were Erwin Griswold of Harvard, Godfrey Schmidt of Fordham, and Jefferson Fordham of the University of Pennsylvania. The argument as it went along was not particularly impressive because television being what it is, none of these speakers had enough time to complete a thought.

So I am writing a piece, inspired by their incomplete performance, dealing with the problems and difficulties of congressional committees.

The investigative arm of Congress is essential to the existence of a Congress. The committees function along three lines:

1. To gather the facts upon which legislation is to be based.

Unless congressional committees can bring before them public officials and citizens, they could not legislate except in a vacuum. Hearings on subjects relating to prospective legislation are constant in both houses and consume a very large part of every senator's and representative's time. This is necessary work and infinitely more important than listening to prolonged speeches that are usually of little value.

2. To investigate the conduct of the executive branch of government, to ferret out corruption and misconduct, with a view to discover whether the laws are enforced.

This time-honored service of the congressional committees has been of great value to the nation. Such a corruption as Teapot Dome or such a subversion as the Institute of Pacific Relations would not have been disclosed to the American people were it not for this type of investigation. During the New Deal, two such committees were infiltrated by now established Communists, including Alger Hiss. These were the Nye and the La Follette committees, which were used to smear and damage American industry. But most of these investigative committees, designed not to write legislation but to expose corruption, have been beneficial.

3. A third function of the congressional committee, very much akin to the second, exists simply to expose.

The principal complaints against congressional committees fall in the second and third categories, particularly the third. For instance, when it is said that the objections are not to McCarthy but to his methods, the reference is to that kind of investigation.

Two suggestions have been made about such committees:

1. That the FBI can perform its tasks, which, of course, is impossible because the law forbids the FBI from exposing its data;

2. That a joint commission, consisting of the executive and legislative branches of government, be appointed to do such investigating.

At present, each chairman can and practically does run his committee more or less as he sees fit. Whether it is a congressional committee or a joint commission, the situation will be unchanged unless Congress itself adopts fixed rules of procedure for all committees.

These rules ought to include a distinction between a witness who is not involved personally but who contributes knowledge, and the witness who is involved in what is being investigated. As it is now, anybody who is called before a congressional committee is regarded as ipso facto guilty of something. In my self-appointed task of winning over ex-Communists, I have found that their greatest reluctance is to appear before a congressional committee even if they desire to be friendly witnesses because mere appearance gives the impression of guilt.

This is unfortunate because it is largely from ex-Communists that really important data concerning the Communist movement comes. Few outsiders know anything about it at all; many believe that they are experts, but no one ever became an expert by guessing.

As Professor Godfrey Schmidt said, a man ought to know what the investigation is about when he is called as a witness. It ought to be indicated to him what the committee seeks to discover from his testimony. Many who now plead the Fifth Amendment — quite incorrectly because their testimony would in no manner incriminate them—do so because they are afraid to testify. They need a bill of particulars.

On the other hand, it needs to be recalled that Alger Hiss and others were caught because of "fishing expeditions." Granted that the FBI had the Hiss case pretty well in hand before the famous "Pumpkin Papers" discovery, the Department of Justice did nothing about the Hiss case as it did nothing about many such cases. The congressional committee thus supplements the FBI.

Celebrating The Victory At Dien Bien Phu

Geneva Parley No Insurance Against Widespread War

By David Lawrence

GENEVA — A peace conference while a war is going on has few precedents to guide anybody, especially when one side is losing steadily on the battlefield and the other sees no immediate reason to forego its advantage by stopping the fighting. That's the situation with respect to Indochina.

Hence the world now may expect an intensification of the war in Southetst Asia, with the probability that it will be broadened into an international war before long. Any day now details of the French plan to change its command and put into effect a comprehensive program for winning the war in Indochina may be expected to be disclosed. It has been under discussion in Paris ever since the fall of Dien Bien Phu, and the American government has been kept closely informed.

This doesn't mean that negotiations here for an armistice are to be broken off. On the contrary, the efforts to get a cease-fire under conditions that are satisfactory to the various nations concerned on the Allied side will continue with vigor in the hope that somewhere, somehow a meeting of minds can be attained. But the working out of an armistice is complicated by so many local factors and the yielding on anything essential that the outlook for an armistice is at this writing far from encouraging.

Red Defiance Continues

There have been some interesting episodes in the last few days the significance of which may have been exaggerated in some quarters. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, told Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese foreign minister, that he must not do things that will push America too far. To this, the Red envoy replied that he counted on the British to hold America in line. Mr. Eden promptly replied that there should be no misunderstanding on that point, for, if a showdown came, the British would be found standing with America.

This isn't the first time that America's plans and contingent action in the world as a result of the Indochina affair have been the subject of intimate discussion with the Communists here. There is reason to believe that Mr. Molotov was told virtually the same thing two weeks ago. It is, of course, an effort to prevent the alleged British-American divergence of view from being construed by the Communists as a break in the Western Alliance. Apparently the warnings have had little effect, for the defiance of the West by both Red China and the Soviet has continued here since those warnings were given.

U.N. Termed Belligerent

Perhaps the most illuminating chapter in the relations between the Communists and the free world has just been written in the speeches here on the Korean problem. Mr. Molotov, speaking for Soviet Russia, has called the United Nations a belligerent and insists it shall have nothing to do with the supervision of any settlement in Korea. Chou En-lai, speaking for Red China, says the same thing and makes a slight concession to the Allies by condescending to permit an international commission "to assist" the all-Korean commission in supervising elections. But the all-Korean commission he proposes would be half Communist and half South Korean, and that means a deadlock, of course, and a disregard for the fact that four-fifths of the population is in South Korea.

So it is evident that the Communists haven't the slightest intention of working out an agreement here to solve the Korean problem and to bring about the unification of the country. Indeed, both Chou-En-lai and Molotov hold that the United States is an aggressor and is therefore unable to be impartial.

The idea that 140,000 American casualties were incurred "to repel aggression" by Red China, whose armies were assisted by Soviet Russia, or that this action was a disinterested and unselfish one is rejected by the Communists. The American delegation is expected this week to answer the charge of alleged aggression by the United Nations, but it will come as a surprise to most Americans to learn that, despite the military effort made by the United Nations forces in Korea, this hasn't impressed the Communists and they are now proposing to get the control of all Korea which they were unable to get through armed operations.

So as yet it is wishful thinking to say that the only language the Communists understand is military force. The fact is they do not understand it unless it is military force exerted with maximum power. The terrible blunder made in the autumn of 1950 in not permitting the bombardment of bases in Manchuria and the blockade of the China coast, as recommended by General MacArthur and the Joint Chiefs of Staff but objected to by the British, is now coming into full fruition for all historians to see. The outcry then that it would have led to a third world war will seem farfetched when the Communists some day force the third world war anyway and the Allies are caught with the Communists in control of all Asia.

Chessboard Maneuvers

What doesn't seem to be generally realized is that, from the Communist point of view, World War III has started and such things as a Geneva Conference are simply military maneuvers on the big chessboard of both Europe and Asia.

For today not only are the Allies weak in Asia but they are losing out in Europe, too. The European Defense Treaty, on which was based the hope for a substantial contribution of German soldiers for the common defense, now has been pushed farther and farther into the background as a result of the Communist victories in Indochina. The French Parliament, shaky and floundering, has postponed action on the treaty for several months.

Meanwhile, Germany is restive. England is vacillating. Italy is face to face with a really serious Communist threat from within. While the peace conference at Geneva has been a worthwhile effort to make—for it has cleared the air and some minor advantages may yet accrue from it — it cannot, as things look now, be expected to remove world tension and assure us against a widespread war. It contains elements which can bring that war even closer. The time for larger military preparation and perhaps for large-scale mobilization may not be far distant.

Sen. McCarthy Grabbed Fort Monmouth Headlines After FBI Investigation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A tip To Secretary Of The Army Stevens—If you will check with your fellow cabinet member, Attorney General Brownell, you will find that the FBI sent two reports to the Justice Department regarding the Signal Corps and Fort Monmouth about one year ago — April 1953. It was a good many months later, after President Eisenhower ordered all cabinet officers to give McCarthy carbon copies of all executive department investigations, that McCarthy got reports on the FBI probe of Fort Monmouth and saw a chance to jump into the headlines. . . . However, I think you will find that the Justice Department had itself concluded, on the basis of its own FBI investigations, that there was no evidence of espionage at Fort Monmouth . . . . Latest Senate quip from the McCarthy hearings: "This is the first time since the Philistines that an Army was defeated with the jawbone of an ass." . . . Every important TV quiz program is planning to invite Army Counsel Joseph Welsh to be a guest star after the McCarthy hearings are over. . . . When the Army-McCarthy hearings began, McCarthy demanded that every member of his staff—clerks, secretaries, and investigators—take a loyalty oath supporting him and Roy Cohn. However, one staff member refused to sign — Mrs. Ruth Young Watts. So far she hasn't been fired. She was around Capitol Hill long before McCarthy.

H-Bomb Silence—The Eisenhower administration has reversed the Truman policy of informing the public whenever Russia explodes a hydrogen or atomic bomb. Under this new policy, the Atomic Energy Commission has announced only one hydrogen explosion inside Russia, though actually the Russians have exploded three H-bombs.... Since the H-bomb is so powerful that it can sink an island or destroy a city, it would seem wise to let the public know what the score is—for the sake of civil defense.... Unfortunately the Russians appear to be ahead of us in some phases of H-bomb research, though we are probably still ahead in over-all H-bomb development . . . Small colleges are complaining that five big universities get the lion's share of the government's research grants —Harvard, Columbia, MIT, Cal Tech, and Chicago.

British-U. S. Split—Behind Winston Churchill's dour speech in which for the first time he didn't defend his mother's native country, the U. S., was a backstage quarrel at Geneva; also serious difficulties over Indochina . . . . At Geneva, Anthony Eden discovered that U. S. Undersecretary of State Beetle Smith was talking on the QT with French Foreign Minister Bidault. . . . They were hatching up a Southeast Asia pact without John Bull . . . . Eden immediately phoned Churchill. Churchill told him to have a showdown with Undersecretary Smith. He did so. But Smith more or less told him to jump in the lake, that he'd talk to the French if he wanted to . . . . Churchill retaliated by pulling New Zealand out of the proposed Asiatic defense pact. Now the U. S. is left only with shaky France, sparse Australia, and the willing but weak Philippines . . . . The Anglo-American split is serious. Some diplomats compare it to the days of Munich when another British prime minister appeased another dictator and got branded with the sign of the umbrella for life . . . . At that time Churchill was one of his bitterest critics.

McCarthy's Pulling Power? One reason Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan spoke out against having Joe campaign for him in Michigan was the Louis Bean political survey of Joe's previous campaigning. A copy of the Bean survey went to the White House in advance of publication and showed McCarthy's vote-pulling power wasn't what it's supposed to be . . . . Handsome Allan Shivers of Texas isn't going to have quite as easy a time getting re-elected governor as expected. A lot of Ike-Democrats are sore at him . . . . The Alsop brothers scored a real victory when they got Attorney General Brownell to probe Paul Crouch for possible perjury. He's the ex-Commie, paid Justice Department witness who tried to smear ex-WPAdministrator Aubrey Williams and the Clifford Durrs. Durr was former FCCommissioner and Mrs. Durr is the sister-in-law of Justice Hugo Black . . . . Congressman Louis Graham of Pennsylvania has been so dilatory about calling a meeting of his House Immigration subcommittee that 177 bills have piled up awaiting action. Graham blithely ignores them . . . . Chester Bowles, one of the best governors Connecticut ever had, is going to be ditched by old-line Democratic leaders for the gubernatorial nomination—if they can possibly get away with it. This is a sure sign they think they can win in November. If they thought they would lose, they'd nominate Bowles whom they can't control after election.

Atomic Vegetables—Atomic Energy Commission experiments indicate that meat, potatoes, onions and possibly other foods can be preserved for two years by atomic radiation. The Army is so impressed by the discovery that it may undertake a five-year research program of atomic food preservation for the military . . . . Philippine President Magsaysay is urging Secretary of Defense Wilson to jazz up the U. S.-Philippine defense treaty immediately . . . . Strengthen bases, activate new bases, increase the size of U. S. detachments already in the Philippines . . . . The U. S. has a total of 23 Army, Navy and Air Force bases scattered throughout the islands; but only three are on an active basis. Magsaysay wants at least ten activiated . . . . Dave Schoenberg, ace CBS commentator, flew to Indochina from Paris for special newscasts. But he found conditions so bad that he sent most of his findings to the Pentagon as a classified report. The native government of Bao Dail, he reported, cannot survive, even if granted complete independence by France.

Joe For President—Joe's office has been handing out reams of badges and matchbooks, proclaiming: "I like McCarthy and his methods." One supporter, Mrs. Anne Rogers, has been passing them out at cocktail parties. Another group has established a "McCarthy for President" headquarters. (It's pretty much the same group that boosted MacArthur for president.)

Haile Selassie Arrives

By Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — It was nice to be in San Francisco even for the short period it takes for United's Honolulu-bound DC 7 to dip its bill in a barrel of gasoline. But it would have been nice to be in New York, too, to help welcome the king of kings, elect of God, king of Zion, conquering Lion of Judah, branch of the tree of Solomon and implement of the Holy Trinity.

That's all one person, 5-foot-4-inch Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

It took the ruggedly independent descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba a long time to get here. President Roosevelt invited him ten years ago. But he'll be made more than welcome: This bearded little man whose speech before the League of Nations, after Mussolini invaded his country, was one of the earliest calls to arms heard (and widely ignored) by the free people everywhere.

Big doings prepared for the emperor, also known as Makonnen and Ras Tafari. He goes to Washington Wednesday morning in the President's plane—the Columbine—and spends the night at the White House. Next night he'll move to Blair House. There will be formal dinners for him, a speech before the joint session of Congress, visits to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and to Mt. Vernon, back in New York this weekend he'll visit Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist Church, Roosevelt's grave at Hyde Park, the Empire State Building and take in a ball game.

Amazing history, Ethiopia. Oldest Christian nation, for instance. No seacoast. Cut off from the rest of the world for centuries. It was not until 1941 that Ethiopia was settled upon as the country's name. Haile Selassie did the settling. Before the birth of Christ, Ethiopia supplied elephants for countries warring against Rome. It has taken a census of its automobiles (10,000), but not of its people (about 18,000,000). We declared our independence in 1776. Ethiopia became independent about 1,200 years before Christ.

The emperor comes with a lot going for him. Not even Russia can question where his sentiments lay before and during World War II. And not even America, prone (with justification) to berate its friends for not giving us much of a hand in the Korean War, can downrate the do-or-die efforts of the small but furious Ethiopian units the emperor sent to the front.

He is welcome for still another reason. He mentioned casually in Addis Ababa ("New Flower") the other day that rich uranium deposits had been discovered in his country and that he had made a deal with the United States to exploit same. It took the State Department by surprise, apparently. Mr. Dulles would like to know more. So would the Atomic Energy Commission.

Speaking of far-flung flights, I see by the papers that we've broken our lease on T-3. T-3 is the largest ice cube in the world, maybe six or seven times as big as the District of Columbia. This sweetwater plateau of ice has been cruising around the top of the world at a breezy half mile an hour, even revolving, for a couple of years. As far as we know, it was the first populated ice cube since Max Baer fell into a triple scotch while training to fight Jim Braddock.

There was a T-1 and a T-2 also fresh water by origin. Our Alaska-based airmen traced T-1 around the North Pole, watching it muscle its way through the jagged Arctic Sea water ice, and believe it made the full swing and return to the same shelf of Northern Canada whence it broke loose. T-2 crossed smack-dab over the geographic North Pole, refused to turn, and may now be in Russian hands. I use the words "in Russian hands" advisedly. Nobody can control one of those slow-moving monsters.

We set several intrepid bands of men down on T-3 to set up and then maintain a weather station at the weather-making center of the earth. It must rate with one of the greatest achievements in aviation history.

Our boys have left the eternal night of T-3's winter. I suspect there were no tears. But on the other hand, we made it peculiarly American. In our earliest days on the ice, when it was strictly a question of survival rather than meteorological work, two young officers had a fist fight at 40 below. One was Air Force, the other Navy. They differed over unification, of all things.

Misplaced Tissue May Result In Some Pain In Women

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Endometriosis, a common disorder of women during the child-bearing age, is associated with painful periods and sterility. The condition never has been noted in the pre-adolescent girl and is rare after the change of life. It is more prevalent in the childless, in those who use contraceptives, and in women who marry late. The disturbance was not well known in grandma's time.

Endometriosis results from bits of menstrual tissue that went the wrong way and landed in the abdominal cavity where they became attached to the surface of the different gastrointestinal and pelvic organs. Enlargement of the uterus occurs when these strands and cells accumulate on the outer wall of this organ, and the condition may be mistaken for fibroid tumors or pregnancy.

When the cells are attached to the intestine, the ensuing growth may obstruct the bowel. This misplaced tissue also gets milady into trouble because it continues to act as though still living in the uterus; it is under the influence of the same sex hormones and becomes swollen and engorged prior to the menstrual period.

Pain is the only constant symptom and varies from milk pelvic discomfort to the severe type of colic associated with intestinal obstruction. Distress is increased by menstruation because at this time the cells become engorged. In some instances, discomfort is most noticeable in the back and now and then extends to a thigh or leg. It is made worse by jarring such as occurs when walking downstairs or riding in auto or bus. Endometriosis also is suggested whenever a woman develops rectal pain during menstruation.

There is no relationship between the number of cells deposited in the adbominal cavity and the symptoms produced; the location of the lesions means most along this line. As the years pass, intermittent pain may become constant throughout the entire month, and extensive surgery may be needed to eradicate the nodules from the abdominal cavity.

Many of these procedures consist of a thorough housecleaning, with the removal of the uterus, tubes, ovaries, and anything else humans can live without. Major surgery is confined to more severe cases and to women who have their families or who have passed the childbearing age. For the younger woman, early pregnancy offers the best hope of prevention, relief, or cure. Meanwhile, several glandular products are available for relief.

TOMORROW: Uric acid in the blood.

STOMACH OPERATION

C. M. writes: Will a person who has one-half his stomach removed because of ulcer be able to eat normally in time?

REPLY

Yes. The ulcer diet may be continued for several weeks after the operation and it may be recommended also for a month during the spring and autumn, when the lesions tend to become active again.

MEDITATION

J. W. writes: I'm awfully tense and would like to try yoga. Can you give me details on this treatment?

REPLY

Yoga is an ancient form of relaxation and is part of Hinduism. May I suggest that you apply at the public library for a book on the subject?

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Leo Durocher and his beautiful wife, movie star Laraine Day, were submitting to a joint TV interview during a road trip of the Giants, when Miss Day made an admission that dazed her husband. "When I was a kid at Long Beach Polytech," babbled Laraine, "I took a 'C' in physical training rather than participate in the girls' baseball games which I loathed. If they forced me to go on the field, I tried to be an umpire rather than a player." Leo the Lip, learning that he was married to a former umpire, turned pale and trembled visibly.

A lovely model was flown to Berlin to participate in an international fashion review, but she neither spoke nor understood German. One morning, crossing Unter den Linden, she sneezed, and a sympathetic West Berlin policeman murmured, "Gesundheit!" The model's face lit up and she cried happily, "At last, I've found a German who knows how to speak English!"

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Dr. Judd Marmor of the University of California says that everyone believes, to a more or less degree, in some superstitions. Before you say that, doc, don't you think you'd better knock on wood?

It's easy to know on which side your bread is buttered. Just drop it on the tablecloth. The answer always is "bottom."

Half the words in the English language are rarely used. Yet some folk seem always at a loss for them.

While two men were umpiring a baseball game in Indiana somebody entered the club house and rifled their wallets. To the men in blue the thief must appear a truly base stealer.

• They've Been Working On The Railroad

Still another legal test in the battle for control of the New York Central Railroad Company by voting proxies is set for today, when the Appellate Division of the New York state courts is to decide whether to enjoin the proxy voting of 800,000 shares (12½ per cent) of the railroad's common stock outstanding.

The shares were purchased last February by two Texas friends of Robert R. Young, chairman of the Alleghany Corporation and former chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, who is trying to displace the present Central management. (The two Texans received large loans from Alleghany without collateral.) Lower courts have refused to issue an injunction against voting the 800,000 shares by proxy or to order postponement of the annual stockholders' meeting set for Wednesday.

Young is reviving a long-standing complaint against the New York Central management: banker control of the road "under the financial management of the Vanderbilt family, First National Bank, J. P. Morgan & Company, and allied banking interests represented on the board . . . during the last 25 years." Criticism of banker management some 40 years ago led to a change in management at that time.

President William White of the New York Central bases his defense against Young on the need for experience in railroading. Himself a life-long railroader, White declares: "The small stockholders who own the bulk of Central understand that railroads are best run by experienced railroad men rather than absentee owners from Palm Beach and Newport."

Both sides have predicted victory in the proxy battle. Both have bombarded stockholders by mail, and have engaged in widespread advertising campaigns. We may have the answer soon.

These Days

Committee Procedures

The other night, I heard three law school professors debate on how to run congressional committees. The three were Erwin Griswold of Harvard, Godfrey Schmidt of Fordham, and Jefferson Fordham of the University of Pennsylvania. The argument as it went along was not particularly impressive because television being what it is, none of these speakers had enough time to complete a thought.

So I am writing a piece, inspired by their incomplete performance, dealing with the problems and difficulties of congressional committees.

The investigative arm of Congress is essential to the existence of a Congress. The committees function along three lines:

1. To gather the facts upon which legislation is to be based.

Unless congressional committees can bring before them public officials and citizens, they could not legislate except in a vacuum. Hearings on subjects relating to prospective legislation are constant in both houses and consume a very large part of every senator's and representative's time. This is necessary work and infinitely more important than listening to prolonged speeches that are usually of little value.

2. To investigate the conduct of the executive branch of government, to ferret out corruption and misconduct, with a view to discover whether the laws are enforced.

This time-honored service of the congressional committees has been of great value to the nation. Such a corruption as Teapot Dome or such a subversion as the Institute of Pacific Relations would not have been disclosed to the American people were it not for this type of investigation. During the New Deal, two such committees were infiltrated by now established Communists, including Alger Hiss. These were the Nye and the La Follette committees, which were used to smear and damage American industry. But most of these investigative committees, designed not to write legislation but to expose corruption, have been beneficial.

3. A third function of the congressional committee, very much akin to the second, exists simply to expose.

The principal complaints against congressional committees fall in the second and third categories, particularly the third. For instance, when it is said that the objections are not to McCarthy but to his methods, the reference is to that kind of investigation.

Two suggestions have been made about such committees:

1. That the FBI can perform its tasks, which, of course, is impossible because the law forbids the FBI from exposing its data;

2. That a joint commission, consisting of the executive and legislative branches of government, be appointed to do such investigating.

At present, each chairman can and practically does run his committee more or less as he sees fit. Whether it is a congressional committee or a joint commission, the situation will be unchanged unless Congress itself adopts fixed rules of procedure for all committees.

These rules ought to include a distinction between a witness who is not involved personally but who contributes knowledge, and the witness who is involved in what is being investigated. As it is now, anybody who is called before a congressional committee is regarded as ipso facto guilty of something. In my self-appointed task of winning over ex-Communists, I have found that their greatest reluctance is to appear before a congressional committee even if they desire to be friendly witnesses because mere appearance gives the impression of guilt.

This is unfortunate because it is largely from ex-Communists that really important data concerning the Communist movement comes. Few outsiders know anything about it at all; many believe that they are experts, but no one ever became an expert by guessing.

As Professor Godfrey Schmidt said, a man ought to know what the investigation is about when he is called as a witness. It ought to be indicated to him what the committee seeks to discover from his testimony. Many who now plead the Fifth Amendment — quite incorrectly because their testimony would in no manner incriminate them—do so because they are afraid to testify. They need a bill of particulars.

On the other hand, it needs to be recalled that Alger Hiss and others were caught because of "fishing expeditions." Granted that the FBI had the Hiss case pretty well in hand before the famous "Pumpkin Papers" discovery, the Department of Justice did nothing about the Hiss case as it did nothing about many such cases. The congressional committee thus supplements the FBI.

Celebrating The Victory At Dien Bien Phu

By David Lawrence

GENEVA — A peace conference while a war is going on has few precedents to guide anybody, especially when one side is losing steadily on the battlefield and the other sees no immediate reason to forego its advantage by stopping the fighting. That's the situation with respect to Indochina.

Hence the world now may expect an intensification of the war in Southetst Asia, with the probability that it will be broadened into an international war before long. Any day now details of the French plan to change its command and put into effect a comprehensive program for winning the war in Indochina may be expected to be disclosed. It has been under discussion in Paris ever since the fall of Dien Bien Phu, and the American government has been kept closely informed.

This doesn't mean that negotiations here for an armistice are to be broken off. On the contrary, the efforts to get a cease-fire under conditions that are satisfactory to the various nations concerned on the Allied side will continue with vigor in the hope that somewhere, somehow a meeting of minds can be attained. But the working out of an armistice is complicated by so many local factors and the yielding on anything essential that the outlook for an armistice is at this writing far from encouraging.

Red Defiance Continues

There have been some interesting episodes in the last few days the significance of which may have been exaggerated in some quarters. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, told Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese foreign minister, that he must not do things that will push America too far. To this, the Red envoy replied that he counted on the British to hold America in line. Mr. Eden promptly replied that there should be no misunderstanding on that point, for, if a showdown came, the British would be found standing with America.

This isn't the first time that America's plans and contingent action in the world as a result of the Indochina affair have been the subject of intimate discussion with the Communists here. There is reason to believe that Mr. Molotov was told virtually the same thing two weeks ago. It is, of course, an effort to prevent the alleged British-American divergence of view from being construed by the Communists as a break in the Western Alliance. Apparently the warnings have had little effect, for the defiance of the West by both Red China and the Soviet has continued here since those warnings were given.

U.N. Termed Belligerent

Perhaps the most illuminating chapter in the relations between the Communists and the free world has just been written in the speeches here on the Korean problem. Mr. Molotov, speaking for Soviet Russia, has called the United Nations a belligerent and insists it shall have nothing to do with the supervision of any settlement in Korea. Chou En-lai, speaking for Red China, says the same thing and makes a slight concession to the Allies by condescending to permit an international commission "to assist" the all-Korean commission in supervising elections. But the all-Korean commission he proposes would be half Communist and half South Korean, and that means a deadlock, of course, and a disregard for the fact that four-fifths of the population is in South Korea.

So it is evident that the Communists haven't the slightest intention of working out an agreement here to solve the Korean problem and to bring about the unification of the country. Indeed, both Chou-En-lai and Molotov hold that the United States is an aggressor and is therefore unable to be impartial.

The idea that 140,000 American casualties were incurred "to repel aggression" by Red China, whose armies were assisted by Soviet Russia, or that this action was a disinterested and unselfish one is rejected by the Communists. The American delegation is expected this week to answer the charge of alleged aggression by the United Nations, but it will come as a surprise to most Americans to learn that, despite the military effort made by the United Nations forces in Korea, this hasn't impressed the Communists and they are now proposing to get the control of all Korea which they were unable to get through armed operations.

So as yet it is wishful thinking to say that the only language the Communists understand is military force. The fact is they do not understand it unless it is military force exerted with maximum power. The terrible blunder made in the autumn of 1950 in not permitting the bombardment of bases in Manchuria and the blockade of the China coast, as recommended by General MacArthur and the Joint Chiefs of Staff but objected to by the British, is now coming into full fruition for all historians to see. The outcry then that it would have led to a third world war will seem farfetched when the Communists some day force the third world war anyway and the Allies are caught with the Communists in control of all Asia.

Chessboard Maneuvers

What doesn't seem to be generally realized is that, from the Communist point of view, World War III has started and such things as a Geneva Conference are simply military maneuvers on the big chessboard of both Europe and Asia.

For today not only are the Allies weak in Asia but they are losing out in Europe, too. The European Defense Treaty, on which was based the hope for a substantial contribution of German soldiers for the common defense, now has been pushed farther and farther into the background as a result of the Communist victories in Indochina. The French Parliament, shaky and floundering, has postponed action on the treaty for several months.

Meanwhile, Germany is restive. England is vacillating. Italy is face to face with a really serious Communist threat from within. While the peace conference at Geneva has been a worthwhile effort to make—for it has cleared the air and some minor advantages may yet accrue from it — it cannot, as things look now, be expected to remove world tension and assure us against a widespread war. It contains elements which can bring that war even closer. The time for larger military preparation and perhaps for large-scale mobilization may not be far distant.

Misplaced Tissue May Result In Some Pain In Women

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Endometriosis, a common disorder of women during the childbearing age, is associated with painful periods and sterility. The condition never has been noted in the pre-adolescent girl and is rare after the change of life. It is more prevalent in the childless, in those who use contraceptives, and in women who marry late. The disturbance was not well known in grandma's time.

Endometriosis results from bits of menstrual tissue that went the wrong way and landed in the abdominal cavity where they became attached to the surface of the different gastrointestinal and pelvic organs. Enlargement of the uterus occurs when these strands and cells accumulate on the outer wall of this organ, and the condition may be mistaken for fibroid tumors or pregnancy.

When the cells are attached to the intestine, the ensuing growth may obstruct the bowel. This misplaced tissue also gets milady into trouble because it continues to act as though still living in the uterus; it is under the influence of the same sex hormones and becomes swollen and engorged prior to the menstrual period.

Pain is the only constant symptom and varies from milk pelvic discomfort to the severe type of colic associated with intestinal obstruction. Distress is increased by menstruation because at this time the cells become engorged. In some instances, discomfort is most noticeable in the back and now and then extends to a thigh or leg. It is made worse by jarring such as occurs when walking downstairs or riding in auto or bus. Endometriosis also is suggested whenever a woman develops rectal pain during menstruation.

There is no relationship between the number of cells deposited in the adbominal cavity and the symptoms produced; the location of the lesions means most along this line. As the years pass, intermittent pain may become constant throughout the entire month, and extensive surgery may be needed to eradicate the nodules from the abdominal cavity.

Many of these procedures consist of a thorough housecleaning, with the removal of the uterus, tubes, ovaries, and anything else humans can live without. Major surgery is confined to more severe cases and to women who have their families or who have passed the childbearing age. For the younger woman, early pregnancy offers the best hope of prevention, relief, or cure. Meanwhile, several glandular products are available for relief.

TOMORROW: Uric acid in the blood.

STOMACH OPERATION

C. M. writes: Will a person who has one-half his stomach removed because of ulcer be able to eat normally in time?

REPLY

Yes. The ulcer diet may be continued for several weeks after the operation and it may be recommended also for a month during the spring and autumn, when the lesions tend to become active again.

MEDITATION

J. W. writes: I'm awfully tense and would like to try yoga. Can you give me details on this treatment?

REPLY

Yoga is an ancient form of relaxation and is part of Hinduism. May I suggest that you apply at the public library for a book on the subject?

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Leo Durocher and his beautiful wife, movie star Laraine Day, were submitting to a joint TV interview during a road trip of the Giants, when Miss Day made an admission that dazed her husband. "When I was a kid at Long Beach Polytech," babbled Laraine, "I took a 'C' in physical training rather than participate in the girls' baseball games which I loathed. If they forced me to go on the field, I tried to be an umpire rather than a player." Leo the Lip, learning that he was married to a former umpire, turned pale and trembled visibly.

A lovely model was flown to Berlin to participate in an international fashion review, but she neither spoke nor understood German. One morning, crossing Unter den Linden, she sneezed, and a sympathetic West Berlin policeman murmured, "Gesundheit!" The model's face lit up and she cried happily, "At last, I've found a German who knows how to speak English!"

Sen. McCarthy Grabbed Fort Monmouth Headlines After FBI Investigation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A tip To Secretary Of The Army Stevens—If you will check with your fellow cabinet member, Attorney General Brownell, you will find that the FBI sent two reports to the Justice Department regarding the Signal Corps and Fort Monmouth about one year ago — April 1953. It was a good many months later, after President Eisenhower ordered all cabinet officers to give McCarthy carbon copies of all executive department investigations, that McCarthy got reports on the FBI probe of Fort Monmouth and saw a chance to jump into the headlines. . . . However, I think you will find that the Justice Department had itself concluded, on the basis of its own FBI investigations, that there was no evidence of espionage at Fort Monmouth . . . . Latest Senate quip from the McCarthy hearings: "This is the first time since the Philistines that an Army was defeated with the jawbone of an ass." . . . Every important TV quiz program is planning to invite Army Counsel Joseph Welsh to be a guest star after the McCarthy hearings are over. . . . When the Army-McCarthy hearings began, McCarthy demanded that every member of his staff—clerks, secretaries, and investigators—take a loyalty oath supporting him and Roy Cohn. However, one staff member refused to sign — Mrs. Ruth Young Watts. So far she hasn't been fired. She was around Capitol Hill long before McCarthy.

H-Bomb Silence—The Eisenhower administration has reversed the Truman policy of informing the public whenever Russia explodes a hydrogen or atomic bomb. Under this new policy, the Atomic Energy Commission has announced only one hydrogen explosion inside Russia, though actually the Russians have exploded three H-bombs.... Since the H-bomb is so powerful that it can sink an island or destroy a city, it would seem wise to let the public know what the score is—for the sake of civil defense.... Unfortunately the Russians appear to be ahead of us in some phases of H-bomb research, though we are probably still ahead in over-all H-bomb development . . . Small colleges are complaining that five big universities get the lion's share of the government's research grants —Harvard, Columbia, MIT, Cal Tech, and Chicago.

British-U. S. Split—Behind Winston Churchill's dour speech in which for the first time he didn't defend his mother's native country, the U. S., was a backstage quarrel at Geneva; also serious difficulties over Indochina . . . . At Geneva, Anthony Eden discovered that U. S. Undersecretary of State Beetle Smith was talking on the QT with French Foreign Minister Bidault. . . . They were hatching up a Southeast Asia pact without John Bull . . . . Eden immediately phoned Churchill. Churchill told him to have a showdown with Undersecretary Smith. He did so. But Smith more or less told him to jump in the lake, that he'd talk to the French if he wanted to . . . . Churchill retaliated by pulling New Zealand out of the proposed Asiatic defense pact. Now the U. S. is left only with shaky France, sparse Australia, and the willing but weak Philippines . . . . The Anglo-American split is serious. Some diplomats compare it to the days of Munich when another British prime minister appeased another dictator and got branded with the sign of the umbrella for life . . . . At that time Churchill was one of his bitterest critics.

McCarthy's Pulling Power? One reason Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan spoke out against having Joe campaign for him in Michigan was the Louis Bean political survey of Joe's previous campaigning. A copy of the Bean survey went to the White House in advance of publication and showed McCarthy's vote-pulling power wasn't what it's supposed to be . . . . Handsome Allan Shivers of Texas isn't going to have quite as easy a time getting re-elected governor as expected. A lot of Ike-Democrats are sore at him . . . . The Alsop brothers scored a real victory when they got Attorney General Brownell to probe Paul Crouch for possible perjury. He's the ex-Commie, paid Justice Department witness who tried to smear ex-WPAdministrator Aubrey Williams and the Clifford Durrs. Durr was former FCCommissioner and Mrs. Durr is the sister-in-law of Justice Hugo Black . . . . Congressman Louis Graham of Pennsylvania has been so dilatory about calling a meeting of his House Immigration subcommittee that 177 bills have piled up awaiting action. Graham blithely ignores them . . . . Chester Bowles, one of the best governors Connecticut ever had, is going to be ditched by old-line Democratic leaders for the gubernatorial nomination—if they can possibly get away with it. This is a sure sign they think they can win in November. If they thought they would lose, they'd nominate Bowles whom they can't control after election.

Atomic Vegetables—Atomic Energy Commission experiments indicate that meat, potatoes, onions and possibly other foods can be preserved for two years by atomic radiation. The Army is so impressed by the discovery that it may undertake a five-year research program of atomic food preservation for the military . . . . Philippine President Magsaysay is urging Secretary of Defense Wilson to jazz up the U. S.-Philippine defense treaty immediately . . . . Strengthen bases, activate new bases, increase the size of U. S. detachments already in the Philippines . . . . The U. S. has a total of 23 Army, Navy and Air Force bases scattered throughout the islands; but only three are on an active basis. Magsaysay wants at least ten activiated . . . . Dave Schoenberg, ace CBS commentator, flew to Indochina from Paris for special newscasts. But he found conditions so bad that he sent most of his findings to the Pentagon as a classified report. The native government of Bao Dail, he reported, cannot survive, even if granted complete independence by France.

Joe For President—Joe's office has been handing out reams of badges and matchbooks, proclaiming: "I like McCarthy and his methods." One supporter, Mrs. Anne Rogers, has been passing them out at cocktail parties. Another group has established a "McCarthy for President" headquarters. (It's pretty much the same group that boosted MacArthur for president.)

Haile Selassie Arrives

By Bob Considine

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — It was nice to be in San Francisco even for the short period it takes for United's Honolulu-bound DC 7 to dip its bill in a barrel of gasoline. But it would have been nice to be in New York, too, to help welcome the king of kings, elect of God, king of Zion, conquering Lion of Judah, branch of the tree of Solomon and implement of the Holy Trinity.

That's all one person, 5-foot-4-inch Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

It took the ruggedly independent descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba a long time to get here. President Roosevelt invited him ten years ago. But he'll be made more than welcome: This bearded little man whose speech before the League of Nations, after Mussolini invaded his country, was one of the earliest calls to arms heard (and widely ignored) by the free people everywhere.

Big doings prepared for the emperor, also known as Makonnen and Ras Tafari. He goes to Washington Wednesday morning in the President's plane—the Columbine —and spends the night at the White House. Next night he'll move to Blair House. There will be formal dinners for him, a speech before the joint session of Congress, visits to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and to Mt. Vernon, back in New York this weekend he'll visit Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist Church, Roosevelt's grave at Hyde Park, the Empire State Building and take in a ball game.

Amazing history, Ethiopia. Oldest Christian nation, for instance. No seacoast. Cut off from the rest of the world for centuries. It was not until 1941 that Ethiopia was settled upon as the country's name. Haile Selassie did the settling. Before the birth of Christ, Ethiopia supplied elephants for countries warring against Rome. It has taken a census of its automobiles (10,000), but not of its people (about 18,000,000). We declared our independence in 1776. Ethiopia became independent about 1,200 years before Christ.

The emperor comes with a lot going for him. Not even Russia can question where his sentiments lay before and during World War II. And not even America, prone (with justification) to berate its friends for not giving us much of a hand in the Korean War, can downrate the do-or-die efforts of the small but furious Ethiopian units the emperor sent to the front.

He is welcome for still another reason. He mentioned casually in Addis Ababa ("New Flower") the other day that rich uranium deposits had been discovered in his country and that he had made a deal with the United States to exploit same. It took the State Department by surprise, apparently. Mr. Dulles would like to know more. So would the Atomic Energy Commission.

Speaking of far-flung flights, I see by the papers that we've broken our lease on T-3. T-3 is the largest ice cube in the world, maybe six or seven times as big as the District of Columbia. This sweetwater plateau of ice has been cruising around the top of the world at a breezy half mile an hour, even revolving, for a couple of years. As far as we know, it was the first populated ice cube since Max Baer fell into a triple scotch while training to fight Jim Braddock.

There was a T-1 and a T-2 also fresh water by origin. Our Alaska-based airmen traced T-1 around the North Pole, watching it muscle its way through the jagged Arctic Sea water ice, and believe it made the full swing and return to the same shelf of Northern Canada whence it broke loose. T-2 crossed smack-dab over the geographic North Pole, refused to turn, and may now be in Russian hands. I use the words "in Russian hands" advisedly. Nobody can control one of those slow-moving monsters.

We set several intrepid bands of men down on T-3 to set up and then maintain a weather station at the weather-making center of the earth. It must rate with one of the greatest achievements in aviation history.

Our boys have left the eternal night of T-3's winter. I suspect there were no tears. But on the other hand, we made it peculiarly American. In our earliest days on the ice, when it was strictly a question of survival rather than meteorological work, two young officers had a fist fight at 40 below. One was Air Force, the other Navy. They differed over unification, of all things.

LaSalle And Allegany Chalk Up Fifth Straight Wins

LaSalle, Allegany and Fort Hill retained the three top positions in the Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference by registering wins yesterday in games played at Flintstone, Hyndman and Fort Hill.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers, leading the championship race by a half game, racked up 12 hits and easily defeated the Flintstone Aggies to the tune of 16-7.

Frank Ritter, Joe Conroy and Bill Roberts took turns on the rubber for the Explorers and Ritter received credit for his first triumph of the campaign as LaSalle made it nine wins in 11 outings and extended its winning streak to five games.

Conroy paced the winners at the plate with a double and two singles while Hugh Nolan, Barney Spearman and Dennis Shuck garnered two blows each. Jim Fletcher accounted for three of the 10 hits credited to the Aggies. Rickey Harris' triple was the longest wallop of the game.

Allegany nosed out a stubborn Hyndman High nine by the score of 5-4 at Hyndman for its fifth win in a row.

Dawson Notches Seventh

The win went to Bobby Dawson who supplanted Don Paye in the 6th inning and finished for the Campers, who broke a 3-3 deadlock with two runs in the top of the 7th to put the game on ice. Dawson posted his fifth win in a row and now owns a season record of 7-1. Kirchner was the loser.

Marshall Yankelevitz, of Allegany, and Bruce May of Hyndman, led the stickers with two hits each.

Hyndman threatened in the final frame when Pinchhitter Don May walked, went to third on Rizer's double and scored on Bagley's sacrifice fly but Harry Iser threw out Robosson to end the game.

Sentinels Get 14 Hits

Fort Hill's Sentinels emerged from a batting slump by racking up 14 safeties to whip Valley High at Fort Hill Field to the tune of 17-2.

Pat Souders, Bruce Lynn and Dorcil Kline sparked the attack of Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation with three hits each. Two of Lynn's blows were doubles while Souders belted a three-bagger as did Kline.

Edgar Puffenburger, a catcher by trade, replaced starter Ed Athey in the second inning and pitched three-hit, shutout ball for six frames to get credit for the win.

Marple Wins For Bruce

Dave Marple notched his third straight pitching triumph as Bruce High School won over Beall High School at Frostburg by the score of 5-3. The victory gave Marple a 4-3 record for the season.

Each team garnered seven hits. Tommy Whiteman garnered three of the seven blows yielded by Ronnie Rice who went all the way for the Mountaineers. Rice, however, blanked Marvin Clem, one of the top hitters in the league, in four trips to the plate. Earl Clark slammed a triple and single to pace the Beall swatsmiths.

Marple struck out eight and Rice fanned seven.

The twice postponed Allegany at Fort Hill games is scheduled for today at Fort Hill Field at 4 o'clock. It will mark the first meeting of the Campers and Sentinels this season.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., May 24—Martinsburg High School ushered Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets out of the running for the West Virginia scholastic baseball title today by defeating the locals at Romney in a 1-0 pitching duel in which Ronnie Smallwood was returned the victor over Harold Mongold.

The victory gave Coach George Whitacre's Bullodgs from Berkeley County the Region Four championship and advanced the winners into the state quarter-finals at Parkersburg on Thursday night.

In quarter-final contests Thursday afternoon Lewisburg opposes Parkersburg and Weirton meets Seth. In the night contests Bluefield faces Williamson and Fairview's defending state champions do battle with Martinsburg.

The only run in today's contest was scored in the bottom of the 6th inning when "Buddy" Barker, Martinsburg's second baseman, tripled and came home on an infield error.

Smallwood limited Moorefield to two hits, singles by Billy Bauserman and Ruel Martin. Catcher Dale Wroe obtained two of the four hits given up by Mongold. Smallwood struck out eleven and issued one base on balls while Mongold fanned two and walked two.

The setback snapped Moorefield's five-game winning streak as the Jackets wound up the campaign with a 10-4 record. Only two runs were scored against Moorefield in its last six games of the season.

Blank Suffers Lung Injury After Being Hit By Pitched Ball

Bobby Blank, one of the most promising young pitchers in the local scholastic ranks, probably will be lost to the Mt. Savage High School nine for the remainder of the Bi-State Conference campaign due to injuries received in the Allegany game last Wednesday.

Blank was struck near the heart by a ball pitched by Bobby Dawson, Allegany High ace, collapsed and was unable to finish the game. X-rays have shown that Bobby suffered injury to a lung on his left side.

Blank, incidentally, was injured twice in the same game. He was spiked in an earlier inning.

Bobby, who "lives for baseball," played in the first 11 games of the season for Mt. Savage High, batted .364 and won four games and lost three. He's an eleventh grader and according to Principal Alfred Benna, Blank is one of the most popular boys in the school.

Shirai Beats Abe Espinosa

Flyweight Champion Gets Split Decision

TOKYO, Tuesday, May 25 (AP)—World flyweight king Yoshio Shirai saved his crown last night with a split decision over Leo Espinosa which brought howls of protest from the challenger's corner.

Even the 35,000 fans, who paid a record gate of $72,000, gave the champion only a polite spattering of applause as the decision was announced. Most of them were Japanese who favored Shirai.

There were a few cheers for the little Filipino, who had taken command in the middle rounds of a bruising struggle only to see the Japanese come back strong at the finish.

The champion, who defended his title for the fourth time, weighed 110¾. Espinosa—who at five feet is four inches shorter than the champion—weighed 111.

One judge called the fight 149-145 for Shirai under Japan's complex point system. The referee called it 147-145 for Shirai. The second judge made it 142-141 for Espinosa.

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Pedro Gonzales, a whopping 3-1 underdog from Rankin, Pa., tonight dished out another damaging defeat to Ralph (Tiger) Jones by gaining a split 10-round decision over the fourth-ranking middleweight from Yonkers, N. Y., at St. Nicholas Arena.

Rosen Hits .442 During Indians' Winning Streak

Heads American Loop In Homers And RBIs

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—If anyone doubts Al Rosen is mainly responsible for the 11-game winning streak of the fast stepping Cleveland Indians all he need do is look at the records.

Times at bat—43; hits—19 batting average—.442; home runs—9 runs batted in—20.

That's a solid output for 11 games and it has carried the 28-year-old first baseman into the American League lead in home runs with 11 and RBI's with 44, through games of Sunday.

The steady hitting of teammate Bobby Avila is all that is keeping Rosen from setting the pace in all three of the important batting departments. Avila tops the batters with a .382 average to .375 for the transplanted third sacker.

In the National League, Ray Jablonski of the St. Louis Cardinals continues his fine sophomore season and with a .380 average holds a comfortable 11 point lead over teammate Stan Musial.

Jablonski came up with 13 hits in 32 at bats last week and lifted his mark seven points. Musial had 12 safeties in 30 trips for a nine point increase. Three of Stan's hits were home runs, giving him the lead in that department with 14. He also is on top in runs batted in with 46.

Bob Lemon, another important Cleveland cog, shows the best won-lost record for pitchers in the American League, 6-0. Vic Raschi, having as much success in the National League as he did in the American, heads the senior circuit. The Cardinal righthander has won five games and dropped none.

Bob Turley of Baltimore has fanned 67 batters to pace the American League while Harvey Haddix of St. Louis has struck out 48, the most in the National.

LaSalle And Allegany Chalk Up Fifth Straight Wins

Aggies Given 16-7 Trouncing By Explorers

BI-STATE STANDINGS

Bruce	9	4	Flintstone	2	11
Mt. Savage	5	7

LaSalle, Allegany and Fort Hill retained the three top positions in the Bi-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference by registering wins yesterday in games played at Flintstone, Hyndman and Fort Hill.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers, leading the championship race by a half game, racked up 12 hits and easily defeated the Flintstone Aggies to the tune of 16-7.

Frank Ritter, Joe Conroy and Bill Roberts took turns on the rubber for the Explorers and Ritter received credit for his first triumph of the campaign as LaSalle made it nine wins in 11 outings and extended its winning streak to five games.

Conroy paced the winners at the plate with a double and two singles while Hugh Nolan, Barney Spearman and Dennis Shuck garnered two blows each. Jim Fletcher accounted for three of the 10 hits credited to the Aggies. Rickey Harris' triple was the longest wallop of the game.

Dawson Notches Seventh

The win went to Bobby Dawson who supplanted Don Paye in the 6th inning and finished for the Campers, who broke a 3-3 deadlock with two runs in the top of the 7th to put the game on ice. Dawson posted his fifth win in a row and now owns a season record of 7-1. Kirchner was the loser.

Marshall Yankelevitz, of Allegany, and Bruce May of Hyndman, led the stickers with two hits each.

Hyndman threatened in the final frame when Pinchhitter Don May walked, went to third on Rizer's double and scored on Bagley's sacrifice fly but Harry Iser threw out Robosson to end the game.

Sentinels Get 14 Hits

Fort Hill's Sentinels emerged from a batting slump by racking up 14 safeties to whip Valley High at Fort Hill Field to the tune of 17-2.

Pat Souders, Bruce Lynn and Dorcil Kline sparked the attack of Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation with three hits each. Two of Lynn's blows were doubles while Souders belted a three-bagger as did Kline.

Marple Wins For Bruce

Dave Marple notched his third straight pitching triumph as Bruce High School won over Beall High School at Frostburg by the score of 5-3. The victory gave Marple a 4-3 record for the season.

Each team garnered seven hits. Tommy Whiteman garnered three of the seven blows yielded by Ronnie Rice who went all the way for the Mountaineers. Rice, however, blanked Marvin Clem, one of the top hitters in the league, in four trips to the plate. Earl Clark slammed a triple and single to pace the Beall swatsmiths.

The twice postponed Allegany at Fort Hill games is scheduled for today at Fort Hill Field at 4 o'clock. It will mark the first meeting of the Campers and Sentinels this season.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., May 24 —Martinsburg High School ushered Moorefield High School nine for the remainder of the Bi-State Conference campaign due to injuries received in the Allegany game last Wednesday.

Bobby, who "lives for baseball," played in the first 11 games of the season for Mt. Savage High, batted .364 and won four games and lost three. He's an eleventh grader and according to Principal Alfred Benna, Blank is one of the most popular boys in the school.

Shirai Beats Abe Espinosa

Flyweight Champion Gets Split Decision

TOKYO, Tuesday, May 25 (AP)—World flyweight king Yoshio Shirai saved his crown last night with a split decision over Leo Espinosa which brought howls of protest from the challenger's corner.

Even the 35,000 fans, who paid a record gate of $72,000, gave the champion only a polite spattering of applause as the decision was announced. Most of them were Japanese who favored Shirai.

There were a few cheers for the little Filipino, who had taken command in the middle rounds of a bruising struggle only to see the Japanese come back strong at the finish.

The champion, who defended his title for the fourth time, weighed 110¾. Espinosa—who at five feet is four inches shorter than the champion—weighed 111.

One judge called the fight 149-145 for Shirai under Japan's complex point system. The referee called it 147-145 for Shirai. The second judge made it 142-141 for Espinosa.

Fred Comer led the Moose team's 14-hit attack with three safeties. "Bub" Porter hit safely twice and Frank Williams smacked a three-bagger. The K. of C. hits were divided among five players. Score:

Rosen Hits .442 During Indians' Winning Streak

Heads American Loop In Homers And RBIs

That's a solid output for 11 games and it has carried the 28-year-old first baseman into the American League lead in home runs with 11 and RBI's with 44, through games of Sunday.

The steady hitting of teammate Bobby Avila is all that is keeping Rosen from setting the pace in all three of the important batting departments. Avila tops the batters with a .382 average to .375 for the transplanted third sacker.

In the National League, Ray Jablonski of the St. Louis Cardinals continues his fine sophomore season and with a .380 average holds a comfortable 11 point lead over teammate Stan Musial.

Jablonski came up with 13 hits in 32 at bats last week and lifted his mark seven points. Musial had 12 safeties in 30 trips for a nine point increase. Three of Stan's hits were home runs, giving him the lead in that department with 14. He also is on top in runs batted in with 46.

Bob Lemon, another important Cleveland cog, shows the best won-lost record for pitchers in the American League, 6-0. Vic Raschi, having as much success in the National League as he did in the American, heads the senior circuit. The Cardinal righthander has won five games and dropped none.

Bob Turley of Baltimore has fanned 67 batters to pace the American League while Harvey Haddix of St. Louis has struck out 48, the most in the National.

Fairgo Races Off Due To Inadequate Wagering Equipment

Racing Solons Withdraw Plan For June Meet

Dates Are Approved Then Cancelled After Tote Firm's Report

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP) — The long awaited shift in dates for Cumberland's 10-day race meeting was announced today, then called off a few hours later when the Maryland Racing Commission discovered the necessary betting equipment would not be available.

So the commission has again taken the Cumberland matter under advisement.

The commission has said it feels a shift in the August dates must be made because of opposition from both Charles Town and Wheeling, W. Va. tracks.

Hagerstown—Aug. 18 to August 28.

Timonium—September 1 to September 11.

Marlboro—September 15 to September 25.

Bel Air—September 29 to October 9.

Bubba Church Sent To Coast League

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP) — Bubba Church, veteran right-handed relief pitcher, today was released outright by the Chicago Cubs to Los Angeles, their Pacific Coast League farm club, and hurler Jim Brosnan was recalled from Des Moines.

In 38 games for Cincinnati and the Cubs last season, the 28-year-old Church had a 7-8 record and a 5.29 earned run average.

Bill Campbell, Frank Stranahan Win In England

11 Americans Score In British Amateur

By STERLING SLAPPEY

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 24 (AP) —Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell led an 11-man American advance today in the British Amateur Golf Tournament, but 13 of their fellow countrymen didn't make it.

Strahanan, the two-time winner from Toledo, Ohio, and Campbell, long-hitting former legislator from Huntington, West Va., won second round matches after drawing opening byes.

Other Americans Win

Four other Americans followed them into the third round and five, including the highly-respected Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., moved into the second bracket.

Meanwhile, in one of the most disastrous first-day performances in the history of this old event, 10 of the first 15 U. S. players to take the tee were eliminated in the first round and two bowed out in the second round later in the day.

Swathed in sweaters to combat the biting wind off the Firth of Forth, Stranahan, who won this title in 1948 and again in 1950, eliminated Andrew Forest of England, 4 and 3. Campbell ousted another Englishman, Denton Guest, 3 and 2.

The 6,806-yard course was sodden from overnight rains and its 36-36—72 par was made more evasive by the cold winds whipping in off the Firth.

Second round winners, besides Stranahan and Campbell, were Frank Woodward of Palm Beach, Fla.; Joe Walter Case of Hendersonville, N. C.; Clarke Hardwicke of Los Angeles and W. G. Wallace Jr., of Pomona, Calif. All drew first round byes.

1953 Champ Scores

Strafaci won his first round match over Dr. C. R. Duncan Leeds, a diminutive, middle-aged physician from Edinsburgh. This match featured the morning round along with the victory of defending champion Joe Carr of Ireland over John McNeilly of Lynn, Mass. 4 and 3.

Other U. S. first round victors were Capt. Malcolm Stokes of Garden City, N. Y. Harry Ridgley of Havertown, Pa.; Larry Carpenter of Springfield, N. J., and Jack Penrose of Miami, Fla.

Stranahan was off form, taking a 9 on the outgoing nine as the result of some wild tee shots. But he still had a three-up lead at the turn.

He clinched the match on the 15th when he hit a long ball to within 150 yards of the green and pitched up to take a four.

Campbell won the first hole and went two-up at the fifth when Guest bunkered his second shot. Getting a birdie three on the sixth, Campbell turned five holes up.

PROVED AGAIN AT INDIANAPOLIS
THE NEW BLUE SUNOCO
WINS AGAINST 16 PREMIUM-PRICED GASOLINES
DELIVERS UP TO 14.9% MORE MILES PER DOLLAR

TECHNICIAN transfers gasoline from drums into cans and graduate as observers watch.

LAP AFTER LAP, car after car ran out of gas. But the cars with New Blue Sunoco kept going, gave more miles.

NEW high anti-knock power
NEW high all-around performance
NEW high value for your money

All the claims of other gasolines can't change results of this test

THE TEST: New High-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at famous Indianapolis Track. Each day of test, 16 cars (including cars with highest compression engines) were fueled with $3 worth of gas, driven around track 'til tanks ran dry. Number of miles each car went was accurately recorded by impartial observers. The fleet of cars was run on New Blue Sunoco and on all 16 premium-priced gasolines.

THE RESULTS: New High-Test Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles per dollar (average: 10.4%) than premium-priced brands tested. Ask your Sunoco dealer for names of these brands.

WE SAVE ON TANKS — WE SAVE ON TRUCKS — WE SAVE ON PUMPS

You save every mile you drive with New Blue Sunoco.

NOTICE: If you have been instructed by your Car Dealer or Owner's Manual to use a "premium" (or "high-test") gasoline, get the New High-Test Blue Sunoco, the premium quality gasoline at regular price.

WILBUR SHAW, President of Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corporation and 3-time winner of the 500-mile auto race, supervised test. He says: "With all cars using $3 worth of gasoline, I saw how much farther those using New High-Test Blue Sunoco went than those fueled with the 16 premium-priced brands tested."

Racing Solons Withdraw Plan For June Meet

Dates Are Approved Then Cancelled After Tote Firm's Report

BALTIMORE, May 24 (AP) — The long awaited shift in dates for Cumberland's 10-day race meeting was announced today, then called off a few hours later when the Maryland Racing Commission discovered the necessary betting equipment would not be available.

D. Eldred Rinehart, commission chairman, earlier had announced Cumberland's annual meeting would be moved from Aug. 4-Aug. 14 to June 23-July 3 to avoid conflict with racing dates in nearby West Virginia.

Inability of the American Totalisator Co. to provide adequate wagering equipment for the June dates compelled the commission to later withdraw its plan for shifting the dates.

So the commission has again taken the Cumberland matter under advisement.

The commission has said it feels a shift in the August dates must be made because of opposition from both Charles Town and Wheeling, W. Va. tracks.

Hagerstown—Aug. 18 to August 28.

Timonium—September 1 to September 11.

Marlboro—September 15 to September 25.

Bel Air—September 29 to October 9.

Bubba Church Sent To Coast League

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP) — Bubba Church, veteran right-handed relief pitcher, today was released outright by the Chicago Cubs to Los Angeles, their Pacific Coast League farm club, and hurler Jim Brosnan was recalled from Des Moines.

In 38 games for Cincinnati and the Cubs last season, the 28-year-old Church had a 7-8 record and a 5.29 earned run average.

Bill Campbell, Frank Stranahan Win In England

11 Americans Score In British Amateur

By STERLING SLAPPEY

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 24 (AP) —Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell led an 11-man American advance today in the British Amateur Golf Tournament, but 13 of their fellow countrymen didn't make it.

Strahanan, the two-time winner from Toledo, Ohio, and Campbell, long-hitting former legislator from Huntington, West Va., won second round matches after drawing opening byes.

Other Americans Win

Four other Americans followed them into the third round and five, including the highly-respected Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., moved into the second bracket.

Meanwhile, in one of the most disastrous first-day performances in the history of this old event, 10 of the first 15 U. S. players to take the tee were eliminated in the first round and two bowed out in the second round later in the day.

Swathed in sweaters to combat the biting wind off the Firth of Forth, Stranahan, who won this title in 1948 and again in 1950, eliminated Andrew Forest of England, 4 and 3. Campbell ousted another Englishman, Denton Guest, 3 and 2.

The 6,806-yard course was sodden from overnight rains and its 36-36 — 72 par was made more evasive by the cold winds whipping in off the Firth.

Second round winners, besides Stranahan and Campbell, were Frank Woodward of Palm Beach, Fla.; Joe Walter Case of Hendersonville, N. C.; Clarke Hardwicke of Los Angeles and W. G. Wallace Jr., of Pomona, Calif. All drew first round byes.

1953 Champ Scores

Strafaci won his first round match over Dr. C. R. Duncan Leeds, a diminutive, middle-aged physician from Edinsburgh. This match featured the morning round along with the victory of defending champion Joe Carr of Ireland over John McNeilly of Lynn, Mass. 4 and 3.

Other U. S. first round victors were Capt. Malcolm Stokes of Garden City, N. Y. Harry Ridgley of Havertown, Pa.; Larry Carpenter of Springfield, N. J., and Jack Penrose of Miami, Fla.

Stranahan was off form, taking 5 on the outgoing nine as the result of some wild tee shots. But he still had a three-up lead at the turn.

He clinched the match on the 15th when he hit a long ball to within 150 yards of the green and pitched up to take a four.

Campbell won the first hole and went two-up at the fifth when Guest bunkered his second shot. Getting a birdie three on the sixth, Campbell turned five holes up.

THE NEW BLUE SUNOCO

DELIVERS UP TO 14.9% MORE MILES PER DOLLAR

TECHNICIAN transfers gasoline from drums into cans and graduate as observers watch.

LAP AFTER LAP, car after car ran out of gas. But the cars with New Blue Sunoco kept going, gave more miles.

NEW high anti-knock power
NEW high all-around performance
NEW high value for your money

All the claims of other gasolines can't change results of this test

THE TEST: New High-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at famous Indianapolis Track. Each day of test, 16 cars (including cars with highest compression engines) were fueled with $3 worth of gas, driven around track 'til tanks ran dry. Number of miles each car went was accurately recorded by impartial observers. The fleet of cars was run on New Blue Sunoco and on all 16 premium-priced gasolines.

THE RESULTS: New High-Test Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles per dollar (average: 10.4%) than premium-priced brands tested. Ask your Sunoco dealer for names of these brands.

How Sun's one-grade policy gives you high-test performance at regular gas price

WE SAVE ON TANKS — WE SAVE ON TRUCKS — WE SAVE ON PUMPS

You save every mile you drive with New Blue Sunoco.

NOTICE: If you have been instructed by your Car Dealer or Owner's Manual to use a "premium" (or "high-test") gasoline, get the New High-Test Blue Sunoco, the premium quality gasoline at regular price.

WILBUR SHAW, President of Indianapolis Motor Speedway Corporation and 3-time winner of the 500-mile auto race, supervised test. He says: "With all cars using $3 worth of gasoline, I saw how much farther those using New High-Test Blue Sunoco went than those fueled with the 16 premium-priced brands tested."

Son Identifies Body Of Man Found Hanged

Victim A. C. Childs Of Terra Alta, W. Va.

PARSONS — Tucker County (W. Va.) authorities this morning identified the man who was found hanging from a tree on Location Mountain, near Parsons, as Amos Curtis Childs, 78-year-old resident of Terra Alta, W. Va.

The man, authorities stated, was identified by his son and son-in-law, who went to Parsons after reading an Associated Press article concerning the finding of the body and which carried a description of the deceased.

After identifying the body, the son explained that his father was in the habit of making brief visits to friends in the area. He left last Tuesday to visit in Oakland, authorities were told, and no fear was felt by his family when he failed to return home within a few days.

No reason could be advanced as to why the elderly Terra Alta man should take his life, as his son said he had not been despondent or in bad health.

The body was discovered at about 3 p. m. by Fred Barr, who owns a farm near the summit of Location Mountain. He reported he found the body as he was walking to St. George, several miles north of Parsons.

Justice of the Peace Stark Coberly, who acted as coroner, Trooper James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment of the West Virginia State Police and Dr. Guy H. Michael Sr., county health officer, accompanied Barr to the spot.

After cutting the body down Dr. Michael examined it and said the man had been dead for over 24 hours. Close investigation showed no identification of any kind on his person.

The acting coroner said the man apparently had walked into the wild region, removed his coat and neatly folded it on a wooden slab at the base of the tree, walked up the sloping trunk of the tree to the large, heavy limbs, tied a new half-inch rope around his neck and around one of the larger limbs, and stepped into space.

Son Identifies Body Of Man Found Hanged

Victim A. C. Childs Of Terra Alta, W. Va.

PARSONS — Tucker County (W. Va.) authorities this morning identified the man who was found hanging from a tree on Location Mountain, near Parsons, as Amos Curtis Childs, 78-year-old resident of Terra Alta, W. Va.

The man, authorities stated, was identified by his son and son-in-law, who went to Parsons after reading an Associated Press article concerning the finding of the body and which carried a description of the deceased.

After identifying the body, the son explained that his father was in the habit of making brief visits to friends in the area. He left last Tuesday to visit in Oakland, authorities were told, and no fear was felt by his family when he failed to return home within a few days.

No reason could be advanced as to why the elderly Terra Alta man should take his life, as his son said he had not been despondent or in bad health.

The body was discovered at about 3 p. m. by Fred Barr, who owns a farm near the summit of Location Mountain. He reported he found the body as he was walking to St. George, several miles north of Parsons.

Justice of the Peace Stark Coberly, who acted as coroner, Trooper James Rightmire of the Thomas detachment of the West Virginia State Police and Dr. Guy H. Michael Sr., county health officer, accompanied Barr to the spot.

After cutting the body down Dr. Michael examined it and said the man had been dead for over 24 hours. Close investigation showed no identification of any kind on his person.

The acting coroner said the man apparently had walked into the wild region, removed his coat and neatly folded it on a wooden slab at the base of the tree, walked up the sloping trunk of the tree to the large, heavy limbs, tied a new half-inch rope around his neck and around one of the larger limbs, and stepped into space.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

REACHING FOR PRESTIGE

DID YOU ever play in a game in which you felt you had to uphold your prestige as more experienced—or something — than the others? There is, of course, nothing much more impressive than bidding and making a grand slam, especially if nobody else in the game happens to do the same. Obviously you don't deserve to make a contract bid on that basis, but if you get away with it, what a pleasant sensation results.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	7 ♥

Samuel Lassar, head of a great duplicating business, and his old friend, Dave Kay, jeweler, boarded the Independence for the Mediterranean-India-Egypt cruise at the start, from their New York homes. Within two days they became known as "Big Slam" and "Little Slam" respectively because they were such inseparable pals at the bridge table. In the cut-in-and-out rubber game, Mr. Lassar happened to be our partner in the North on this deal, and against us was "Little Slam," paired with John Gehan, executive vice-president of American Export Lines.

No excuses will be made for our overboard bidding except the idea in the top paragraph. Plenty of luck was needed to pull the contract through. The spade K was won by the A, heart K and A scored, then the two club tops for spade discards, followed by a high ruff of the club 4. Next came the heart J, 9, 7 and 6, squeezing both defenders. As the last was laid down, we also had our three diamonds and the dummy the spade J, diamond K and 2 and club 8. West had to hold his spade Q to guard the J, so tossed a diamond, whereupon the spade J was shed. Now East was squeezed. Having to keep the club Q over the dummy's 8, he threw off a diamond, whereupon the diamond K, A and 8 finished the big slam.

Later, after overbidding twice more into grand slams, we made one of them, then commented to Mr. Kay that we succeeded with the two vulnerable ones and failed with the not vulnerable one. "I didn't notice that," he replied, "but I did notice that the two you made were against me and the one you missed was when I was your partner." Such is luck.

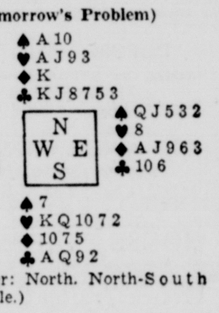
(Tomorrow's Problem)



(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

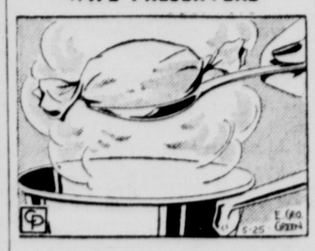
WIFE PRESERVERS



Try wrapping a cracked egg in a piece of waxed paper, the kind in which bread is purchased. The contents will not bubble out when it is boiled.

That slogan of Communist Russia and Communist China of "Asia for the Asians" has quite a hook to it—they mean their kind of Asians.

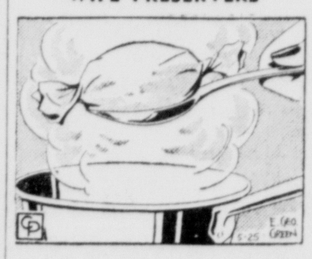
WIFE PRESERVERS



Try wrapping a cracked egg in a piece of waxed paper, the kind in which bread is purchased. The contents will not bubble out when it is boiled.

That slogan of Communist Russia and Communist China of "Asia for the Asians" has quite a hook to it—they mean their kind of Asians.

REACHING FOR PRESTIGE

DID YOU ever play in a game in which you felt you had to uphold your prestige as more experienced—or something — than the others? There is, of course, nothing much more impressive than bidding and making a grand slam, especially if nobody else in the game happens to do the same. Obviously you don't deserve to make a contract bid on that basis, but if you get away with it, what a pleasant sensation results.

	♠ J 8 4 3 ♥ A 5 ♦ K 9 2 ♣ A K 8 4
♠ K Q 10 6 ♥ 10 4 2 ♦ Q 10 3 ♣ 10 5 3	N W E S	♠ 7 2 ♥ 8 ♦ J 7 6 4 ♣ Q J 9 7 6 2
	♠ A 9 5 ♥ K Q J 9 7 6 3 ♦ A 8 5 ♣ None

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	7 ♥

Samuel Lassar, head of a great duplicating business, and his old friend, Dave Kay, jeweler, boarded the Independence for the Mediterranean-India-Egypt cruise at the start, from their New York homes. Within two days they became known as "Big Slam" and "Little Slam" respectively because they were such inseparable pals at the bridge table. In the cut-in-and-out rubber game, Mr. Lassar happened to be our partner in the North on this deal, and against us was "Little Slam," paired with John Gehan, executive vice-president of American Export Lines.

No excuses will be made for our overboard bidding except the idea in the top paragraph. Plenty of luck was needed to pull the contract through. The spade K was won by the A, heart K and A scored, then the two club tops for spade discards, followed by a high ruff of the club 4. Next came the heart J, 9, 7 and 6, squeezing both defenders. As the last was laid down, we also had our three diamonds and the dummy the spade J, diamond K and 2 and club 8. West had to hold his spade Q to guard the J, so tossed a diamond, whereupon the spade J was shed. Now East was squeezed. Having to keep the club Q over the dummy's 8, he threw off a diamond, whereupon the diamond K, A and 8 finished the big slam.

Later, after overbidding twice more into grand slams, we made one of them, then commented to Mr. Kay that we succeeded with the two vulnerable ones and failed with the not vulnerable one. "I didn't notice that," he replied, "but I did notice that the two you made were against me and the one you missed was when I was your partner." Such is luck.

(Tomorrow's Problem)

	♠ A 10 ♥ A J 9 3 ♦ K ♣ K J 8 7 5 3
♠ K 9 8 6 4 ♥ 6 5 4 ♦ Q 8 4 2 ♣ 4	N W E S	♠ Q J 5 3 2 ♥ 8 ♦ A J 9 6 3 ♣ 10 6
	♠ 7 ♥ K Q 10 7 2 ♦ 10 7 5 ♣ A Q 9 2

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Harry Vernall, who died 5 years ago today, May 25, 1949.
A wonderful husband, man and aide,
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that husband was you.
Though you're gone, but not forgotten,
For on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Sadly missed by

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Harry Vernall, who died 5 years ago today, May 25, 1949.
A wonderful husband, man and aide,
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that husband was you.
Though you're gone, but not forgotten,
For on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Sadly missed by
Wife, children & grandchildren

HOW ABOUT A TRADE??

Are you at the age where you would be interested in letting up a little, move out from town and take on a business? You may have members of the family who could adapt themselves to business and aid to the extent that other needed lines could be added to this set-up.

Or, you may be younger and wanting to get out on your own and take over a store and ESSO station with possibilities of expanding to a real full time business, as this once was. Much depends upon Y-O-U, the man who stands behind the counter. This place has possibilities.

Trading a city property would likely put you in possession of this opportunity.

No. 23667 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the Complainant from the Respondent A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

The Bill states the parties were married in Oakland, Maryland, on August 10, 1929; that they lived together until October, 1947, at which time the Respondent abandoned and deserted the Complainant; that the said abandonment has continued uninterruptedly down to the present time, is of at least eighteen months duration, is deliberate and final, and beyond hope of reconciliation; that no children were born of said marriage.

That the Complainant has been a resident of Allegany County for more than one year prior to the filing of this suit, and that the Respondent's last known address was 1357 Girard Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

It is thereupon, this 14" day of May, 1954, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, that the Complainant causes this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four weeks before the 17" day of June, 1954, giving notice to the said Elizabeth T. Cupler, absent Respondent, of the object and substance of this Bill and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 5" day of July, 1954, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree ought not be passed as prayed.

HOW ABOUT A TRADE??

Are you at the age where you would be interested in letting up a little, move out from town and take on a business? You may have members of the family who could adapt themselves to business and aid to the extent that other needed lines could be added to this set-up.

Or, you may be younger and wanting to get out on your own and take over a store and ESSO station with possibilities of expanding to a real full time business, as this once was. Much depends upon Y-O-U, the man who stands behind the counter. This place has possibilities.

Trading a city property would likely put you in possession of this opportunity.

Flood Wall Work Slated To Open Here This Week

Industrial Dam Job Is Nearly Finished

The firm received its proceed notice from the Corps of Engineers on the May 17, and work is slated to begin within 10 days of the receipt of the notice.

Early this month, the firm was awarded, for about $200,000, the contract for building some 780 feet of concrete flood wall, running from the rear of the Moose Home to beyind the Gas Company property on Water Street.

The contract is the first to be awarded this year in connection with the $17,000,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection plan.

One other contract, the first phase of Wills Creek channel improvement, was completed recently by the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago.

The Albrecht firm has also completed more than 95 per cent of a second contract which included the construction of the Industrial Dam.

All that remains of this contract, officials said, is to complete the placing of rip rap and derrick stone on the West Virginia side of the dam, and cleaning up operations, including the removal of two temporary buildings.

Leonard Little Conviction Is Upheld In Court

Appeals Judges Back Troopers' Testimony

ANNAPOLIS, May 24 (AP) — The fact state troopers were not properly ordered into a Maryland municipality to investigate crime doesn't bar them from testifying about it, the Court of Appeals declared today.

They have a right to talk in court as "members of the general public" if nothing else, the court said.

The court spoke in unanimously upholding the conviction of Leonard (Chick) Little, Cumberland poolroom operator, of taking bets on the horses. Little was fine $1,000 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction.

His attorneys had argued two state policemen should have been kept off the witness stand in Washington County Circuit Court because of a law which says State Police may not act within a municipality which maintains its own force unless called in by the mayor or chief of police officer.

Circuit Judge Joseph D. Mish of Hagerstown, into whose court Little's trial moved, decided that John J. Long, Cumberland police and fire commissioner, had authority to summons troopers for an investigation.

Although Cumberland has a separate chief of police, Judge William L. Henderson said for the appeals court that the law refers to "the ranking official of a local police department regardless of title."

Even if the state officers were not deputized to perform police duties in Cumberland, "it would not follow that their testimony was inadmissible," Henderson added.

"As members of the general public they had a legal right to enter the poolroom to which the public was invited and could testify to what they saw and heard there," he said.

The troopers had testified they placed bets at Little's place Aug. 29, 1952 and that Little returned their $7 the next day after their horse was scratched.

The Weather

Temperatures continued to rise yesterday with the bright, sunny day bringing many visitors to Cumberland to shop and browse around. Official reading in Constitution Park recorded 78 degrees as high for the 24-hour period. The low was 41 degrees and at 8:30 o'clock last night the mercury registered at 69. The humidity for the day was 31 per cent. Forecast for today is continued fair and warm.

TB Association Boosts Services In This Area

The costs for the year ending March 31 showed expenditures exceeded estimates by $1,573.37, chiefly as a result of the expansion of social service work.

Clinic costs also exceeded the allotted amount by $126.87, since the number of new cases found and treated made it necessary to double clinic services which had previously been held bi-monthly.

Seal Sale Increases

Seal costs were greater than the previous year as the 32,000 letters sent represented an increase of 1,889 letters in Garrett and 8,289 in Allegany County.

The 1953 seal sale brought in gross returns of $15,893.20 in the two Western Maryland counties. Of this, $3,337.57 was turned over to the National and Maryland tuberculosis associations, leaving a net seal return of $11,125.12 after net seal costs of $2,287.13 were paid.

The association pointed out that 65 per cent of its expenditures were used for direct services to citizens and that 36 per cent alone was used for welfare needs and treatment of tuberculosis patients in the county. In the past, the report said, the largest percentage of funds has been spent on health education.

The annual financial report showed $10,191.31 cash on hand March 31, 1953, with total receipts of $29,371.74.

Pay Assessments

Total 1953-54 expenditures were $13,844.03, including $11,864.90 spent in Allegany and $1,979.13 in Garrett County.

Expenditures included staff time valued at $2,513.30 for health education, $896.24 for social service, $865.71 for case finding and $1,261.45 for the seal sale.

Social services totaling $937.89 included $560.18 for county services and $377.71 for services provided by the MTA for patients in hospitals.

County Is Third In Bond Sales

Lynn C. Lashley, Allegany County Savings Bond chairman, announced that state-wide sales of E and H. Savings Bonds in April amounted to $5,306,943, marking the fourth consecutive month during which sales have exceeded $5 million for Maryland.

For the four-month period ending April 30, sales totalled $21,509,004, an increase over the corresponding period in 1953, of $1,712,962.

Lashley pointed out, however, that despite this increase in dollar sales, the state is still running behind its allotted quota by approximately 4.33 per cent.

During this four-month period, bond sales in Allegany County totalled $1,016,349, placing them in third place throughout the state, behind Washington and Harford counties.

AFL Officials Make Plans For Labor Temple

Get Permission To Sell Old Building

Prospects for the purchase of a South Liberty Street building as the site of a new Allegany County AFL Labor Temple were reported good last night by AFL officials.

Charles E. Bramble, chairman of the Allegany Cooperative Labor Temple Association, said the association has received permission to sell the present Allegany Trades Council property on Frederick Street.

He said the deal to purchase the former Wolford Funeral Home property can be arranged as soon as one major pledge is paid.

"I don't see how we can fail," he added, in describing the fund drive which has been made here among American Federation of Labor affiliates.

Some time ago, the Allegany Trades Council, which includes 21 of the 40 AFL unions of Allegany County, instituted plans for building a new labor temple on the site of the present Trades Council building.

These plans have been dropped in favor of securing the Liberty Street building and remodeling it so it will provide space for locals which desire office quarters, plus an auditorium large enough for mass meetings.

The new quarters are being financed through the sale of $25 shares in the corporation.

Present quarters on Frederick Street are inadequate to house the present affiliates. Among those who maintain other quarters at present are the Teamsters, Dairy Workers and Steamfitters-Plumbers locals.

Plans To Campaign For State Senator

Earl E. Manges, local attorney, last night announced his resignation as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee to devote full time to his campaign for state senator in the June 28 primary.

Edgar M. Lewis, vice chairman of the State Central Committee, will fill the post as chairman until the new board is elected in the primary.

First Statement

Manges said last night he had made no previous statement in his campaign for state senator because of his chairmanship of the State Central Committee.

A member of the District of Columbia and Maryland bars and engaged in law practice in Cumberland since September 1, 1950, Manges resides on Pleasant Valley Road on Martin's Mountain with his wife and two daughters. He also is a member of the Allegany County, Maryland and American Bar Associations.

He was appointed court stenographer for Allegany and Garrett counties in January of 1940 and served in that capacity until September 1, 1950, when he began his present law practice.

His resignation completes nearly four years as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County.

Vestry Member

Manges has been active in church organizations of the county and is a member of the vestry of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He is vice president of the Western Conference Sunday School Association of the Lutheran Synod of Maryland and has been a member of the night school faculty of Catherman's Business School for the past 14 years. In his statement to the voters of Allegany County Manges said:

"In submitting my candidacy to the electorate of Allegany County for the important office of state senator, I pledge that if elected I shall do all within my power to faithfully and conscientiously represent the best interests of Allegany County at all times.

"I am confident that my training and experience will qualify me to occupy this office. Having been born and reared on a farm I know the farm problems well; and I shall look to the interests of the farm population of Allegany County. For a number of years I was a clerk in a store and later operated a store myself. I learned at first hand the problems of the small business man.

"Moving on to the teaching profession I learned at first hand their problems also. For the past number of years I have become very familiar with the problems of every class of citizen of Allegany County in my practice as a lawyer, as a large part of my practice has been representing the working man, the farmer, the small business and professional man.

"As a taxpayer in Allegany County I am fully aware of the tax burden resting upon each and every citizen. I pledge that I shall exert every effort toward economy in government, for only as costs of government are cut can there be a downward trend in taxes. This is a fundamental political philosophy to which I have always adhered.

"My only promise if elected is that I will continuously reside in

Industrial Dam Job Is Nearly Finished

The firm received its proceed notice from the Corps of Engineers on the May 17, and work is slated to begin within 10 days of the receipt of the notice.

Early this month, the firm was awarded, for about $200,000, the contract for building some 780 feet of concrete flood wall, running from the rear of the Moose Home to beyind the Gas Company property on Water Street.

The contract is the first to be awarded this year in connection with the $17,000,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection plan.

One other contract, the first phase of Wills Creek channel improvement, was completed recently by the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago.

The Albrecht firm has also completed more than 95 per cent of a second contract which included the construction of the Industrial Dam.

All that remains of this contract, officials said, is to complete the placing of rip rap and derrick stone on the West Virginia side of the dam, and cleaning up operations, including the removal of two temporary buildings.

Leonard Little Conviction Is Upheld In Court

Appeals Judges Back Troopers' Testimony

ANNAPOLIS, May 24 (AP) — The fact state troopers were not properly ordered into a Maryland municipality to investigate crime doesn't bar them from testifying about it, the Court of Appeals declared today.

They have a right to talk in court as "members of the general public" if nothing else, the court said.

The court spoke in unanimously upholding the conviction of Leonard (Chick) Little, Cumberland poolroom operator, of taking bets on the horses. Little was fine $1,000 and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction.

His attorneys had argued two state policemen should have been kept off the witness stand in Washington County Circuit Court because of a law which says State Police may not act within a municipality which maintains its own force unless called in by the mayor or chief of police officer.

Circuit Judge Joseph D. Mish of Hagerstown, into whose court Little's trial moved, decided that John J. Long, Cumberland police and fire commissioner, had authority to summons troopers for an investigation.

Although Cumberland has a separate chief of police, Judge William L. Henderson said for the appeals court that the law refers to "the ranking official of a local police department regardless of title."

Even if the state officers were not deputized to perform police duties in Cumberland, "it would not follow that their testimony was inadmissible," Henderson added.

"As members of the general public they had a legal right to enter the poolroom to which the public was invited and could testify to what they saw and heard there," he said.

The troopers had testified they placed bets at Little's place Aug. 29, 1952 and that Little returned their $7 the next day after their horse was scratched.

The Weather

Temperatures continued to rise yesterday with the bright, sunny day bringing many visitors to Cumberland to shop and browse around. Official reading in Constitution Park recorded 78 degrees as high for the 24-hour period. The low was 41 degrees and at 8:30 o'clock last night the mercury registered at 69. The humidity for the day was 31 per cent. Forecast for today is continued fair and warm.

TB Association Boosts Services In This Area

The Allegany and Garrett Tuberculosis Association spent $15,524.13 for its 1953-54 operations, according to an annual report released recently.

The costs for the year ending March 31 showed expenditures exceeded estimates by $1,573.37, chiefly as a result of the expansion of social service work.

Clinic costs also exceeded the allotted amount by $126.87, since the number of new cases found and treated made it necessary to double clinic services which had previously been held bi-monthly.

Seal Sale Increases

Seal costs were greater than the previous year as the 32,000 letters sent represented an increase of 1,889 letters in Garrett and 8,289 in Allegany County.

The 1953 seal sale brought in gross returns of $15,893.20 in the two Western Maryland counties. Of this, $3,337.57 was turned over to the National and Maryland tuberculosis associations, leaving a net seal return of $11,125.12 after net seal costs of $2,287.13 were paid.

The association pointed out that 65 per cent of its expenditures were used for direct services to citizens and that 36 per cent alone was used for welfare needs and treatment of tuberculosis patients in the county. In the past, the report said, the largest percentage of funds has been spent on health education.

The annual financial report showed $10,191.31 cash on hand March 31, 1953, with total receipts of $29,371.74.

Pay Assessments

Assessments to state and national TB associations totaled $5,028.59, leaving a net operating income of $24,343.15.

Total 1953-54 expenditures were $13,844.03, including $11,864.90 spent in Allegany and $1,979.13 in Garrett County.

Expenditures included staff time valued at $2,513.30 for health education, $896.24 for social service, $865.71 for case finding and $1,261.45 for the seal sale.

Spent for Health Department services were $1,698.84 for the operation of chest clinic services, and another $195.52 for X-ray supplies.

Social services totaling $937.89 included $560.18 for county services and $377.71 for services provided by the MTA for patients in hospitals.

Lashley pointed out, however, that despite this increase in dollar sales, the state is still running behind its allotted quota by approximately 4.33 per cent.

During this four-month period, bond sales in Allegany County totalled $1,016,349, placing them in third place throughout the state, behind Washington and Harford counties.

Allegany County's 1954 quota is $3,175,700, and to date the county has achieved 31.8 per cent of this goal.

AFL Officials Make Plans For Labor Temple

Get Permission To Sell Old Building

Prospects for the purchase of a South Liberty Street building as the site of a new Allegany County AFL Labor Temple were reported good last night by AFL officials.

Charles E. Bramble, chairman of the Allegany Cooperative Labor Temple Association, said the association has received permission to sell the present Allegany Trades Council property on Frederick Street.

He said the deal to purchase the former Wolford Funeral Home property can be arranged as soon as one major pledge is paid.

"I don't see how we can fail," he added, in describing the fund drive which has been made here among American Federation of Labor affiliates.

Some time ago, the Allegany Trades Council, which includes 21 of the 40 AFL unions of Allegany County, instituted plans for building a new labor temple on the site of the present Trades Council building.

These plans have been dropped in favor of securing the Liberty Street building and remodeling it so it will provide space for locals which desire office quarters, plus an auditorium large enough for mass meetings.

The new quarters are being financed through the sale of $25 shares in the corporation.

Present quarters on Frederick Street are inadequate to house the present affiliates. Among those who maintain other quarters at present are the Teamsters, Dairy Workers and Steamfitters-Plumbers locals.

State Jaycees Elect Lowery

The Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce voted over the week to hold its 1955 convention in Cumberland and elected Earl William Lowery of this city as one of the five state vice-presidents.

Lowery defeated George Delaplaine of Frederick by three votes in the closest balloting Saturday at the state convention in Ocean City.

Melvin Peters of Silver Spring is the new state Jaycee president, succeeding Roland Hebb of Hagerstown. Other new officers are Jack Kelly of Bethesda, Thomas Hennessy of Baltimore, William Surles of Prince George's and William Calloway of Salisbury, vice-presidents, and Gordon Naigle of Salisbury, treasurer.

When President Hebb announced at the convention that no bids had yet been received for the 1955 convention the Cumberland delegation offered to have the affair brought here next May. The offer was accepted.

Attending from Cumberland were three delegates, Albert D. Darby Jr., state director; Paul A. Buchanan and Ronald J. Screen. Mrs. Darby and Mrs. Buchanan accompanied their husbands.

EARL E. MANGES

Manges Resigns As Chairman Of GOP Committee

Plans To Campaign For State Senator

Earl E. Manges, local attorney, last night announced his resignation as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee to devote full time to his campaign for state senator in the June 28 primary.

Edgar M. Lewis, vice chairman of the State Central Committee, will fill the post as chairman until the new board is elected in the primary.

First Statement

Manges said last night he had made no previous statement in his campaign for state senator because of his chairmanship of the State Central Committee.

A member of the District of Columbia and Maryland bars and engaged in law practice in Cumberland since September 1, 1950, Manges resides on Pleasant Valley Road on Martin's Mountain with his wife and two daughters. He also is a member of the Allegany County, Maryland and American Bar Associations.

He was appointed court stenographer for Allegany and Garrett counties in January of 1940 and served in that capacity until September 1, 1950, when he began his present law practice.

His resignation completes nearly four years as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County.

Vestry Member

Manges has been active in church organizations of the county and is a member of the vestry of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He is vice president of the Western Conference Sunday School Association of the Lutheran Synod of Maryland and has been a member of the night school faculty of Catherman's Business School for the past 14 years. He has also taught for several years an extension course for the American Institute of Banking, Allegany County chapter.

In his statement to the voters of Allegany County Manges said:

"In submitting my candidacy to the electorate of Allegany County for the important office of state senator, I pledge that if elected I shall do all within my power to faithfully and conscientiously represent the best interests of Allegany County at all times.

"I am confident that my training and experience will qualify me to occupy this office. Having been born and reared on a farm I know the farm problems well; and I shall look to the interests of the farm population of Allegany County. For a number of years I was a clerk in a store and later operated a store myself. I learned at first hand the problems of the small business man.

"Moving on to the teaching profession I learned at first hand their problems also. For the past number of years I have become very familiar with the problems of every class of citizen of Allegany County in my practice as a lawyer, as a large part of my practice has been representing the working man, the farmer, the small business and professional man.

"As a taxpayer in Allegany County I am fully aware of the tax burden resting upon each and every citizen. I pledge that I shall exert every effort toward economy in government, for only as costs of government are cut can there be a downward trend in taxes. This is a fundamental political philosophy to which I have always adhered.

"My only promise if elected is that I will continuously reside in
